LOS ANGELES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY SUCCEUMBS

Executive Passes Away on Board Ship En Route to Cuba for Vacation

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for the past thirty-six years, and one of the best known men in the west, died early today aboard the steamer President Garfield, while en route to Cuba, according to a radiogram received here.

Wiggins left Los Angeles several weeks ago for a protracted visit to Cuba and the Bermuda islands, to regain his health, which had become undermined from overwork. His wife accompanied him on the trip and was with him when he died.

Death was due to a stroke of paralysis, the message stated. The body will be taken in charge by officials of the Chamber of Commerce when the steamer arrives here tomorrow night.

Wiggins was born in Richmond, Ind., November 8, 1849. He came to Los Angeles in 1889 and three years later became identified with the Chamber of Commerce. More than any other man, Wiggins is credited with the remarkable growth of this city and it was largely due to his efforts that some of the most gigantic development projects in Southern California were carried out.

Another 'Enoch Arden' Dampens Wedding Joy

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 18.—Lawrence Powers, minus a bride, is on his way to Three Rivers, N. M., today where he is employed on the Albert E. Fall ranch, because a modern Enoch Arden appeared after an absence of four years.

When John Bailey of this city disappeared his wife Hattie spent three years in a vain search for him until she learned he had slipped on a boat out of Galveston, Texas, that was stricken with the loss of the entire complement. Later she married Powers and went to live with him in New Mexico.

While on a visit here this week Mrs. Powers met her first husband on the street. He had been booked to sail on the stricken vessel, but failed to reach Galveston in time, he said. Mrs. Powers' second marriage was annulled yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Secretary of the Navy William C. Drexel and Secretary of War Weeks today approved plans for the joint army-navy maneuvers in the Pacific next spring.

The problem will be the seizure of the Hawaiian islands by the battle fleet, the defense to be made by all available forces stationed there. The fleet will start for Honolulu on April 25, proceeding after the war games to Australia, if funds are made available by congress.

CLASH WITH JAPAN NOW LOOMS

Chihli Guards Get Orders To Arrest Any Nippon Soldier Suspected

TIENTSIN, Oct. 18.—The possibility of Japanese intervention in the Chihli Fengtien war was seen here today, following reports of several clashes between Chinese troops and soldiers in Japanese garrisons in the Chinwangtao area. Clashes have also taken place, it was reported, at Shanhaikuan and Luan Chow.

A news agency reports it is authoritative information that Wu Pei Fu has ordered Chihli guards to arrest any Japanese soldier wandering the roads or whose conduct is suspicious and hold him until the civil war is terminated.

Order Executions
The arrest of any Japanese civilian whose behavior was doubtful was also ordered, the report said, those arrested to be reported to the Japanese consulate and executed unless the consulate intervenes. Execution of anyone dressed in Chinese clothing but appearing to be Japanese was also ordered, the agency said.

The Japanese colony here is greatly disturbed, recalling the threat of Wu Pei Fu, following the Feng Tien defeat in 1922, to drive Japanese out of China. The Japanese destroyers have arrived at Chinwangtao from Port Arthur.

Jusserand, for twenty years ambassador from France, is to be withdrawn by the French foreign office, and in his place will come Georges Daeschner, now on duty in Quai D'Orsay, as director of administrative affairs. Jusserand's withdrawal will leave Ambassador Riano, of Spain, as the dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington.

SHENANDOAH UNABLE TO REACH ITS MOORINGS

Giant Craft Cannot Descend Until Heat From Sun Is Less Intense

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., Oct. 18.—Unable to moor because the sunlight heated the helium with which it is filled to such an extent that it could not descend, the giant navy dirigible Shenandoah, at the end of her trans-continental voyage, was hovering over the army reservation this afternoon.

According to radio messages from the airship, its commander believes that the sun will be low enough by 4 p. m. for it to make fast at the giant mooring mast erected for it.

The Shenandoah arrived over Camp Lewis at 7:45 this morning. Its silver gray outline being just barely discernible through the heavy fog to the hundreds of soldiers and civilians who had waited all night for its arrival.

Sun Too Bright
While the crowd on the ground grew every moment, it cruised over the landing field until 8 o'clock when it attempted to make fast. The effort was futile, however, as the sun was shining with too great intensity to permit it to come down to the necessary level without releasing part of its supply of helium. The gas is exceedingly valuable, so it was decided to delay the operation in the interests of economy.

By 10 o'clock in the morning there were not less than 3,000 motor cars in the camp from practically every corner of the state, and the crowd on hand was in excess of 15,000.

Davis' Final Appeal Made to Middle West

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—John W. Davis invaded trans-Mississippi today to make his last personal appeal for votes in the middle west. Marking his second visit to the state in the present campaign Davis faced a busy program of speaking engagements.

He was to cross the Mississippi for an address in East St. Louis, Ill., early this afternoon and to return here late for a night address. His schedule also called for a speech before Democratic committee workers.

The visit here virtually ended the nominee's western invasion. He will leave tonight for Nashville, Tenn., to pay a "complimentary visit" in appreciation of the "solid south's" support. He will spend Sunday in seclusion in Nashville and make an address there Monday night. His itinerary then will carry him to Louisville, Evansville, Indiana, Cleveland, and back to New York, where he will devote the remainder of his campaign to winning the east.

Three Rum Ships Are Captured by Police

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—After a hand-to-hand battle in which a police machine gun awoke the early morning echoes of the lower bay, three rum-running vessels, including the notorious Sachem, were captured today, their crews placed under arrest and their cargoes confiscated. In one instance a policeman leaped across eight feet of open water to effect the capture, while the crew of five stood cowed in the hold. One of the crew leaped overboard. The ship's cargoes are valued at $100,000.

Sykes, she claimed in the suit, took up too much of the bed, causing her sleepless nights, and his habit of hiding her spectacles so she could not read caused her great annoyance and suffering.

STUDENT OF CRIMINALS CONFESSES CRIMES

Youth Admits Robbery of D. L. Gregg Store and Star Auto Agency

A story of "crime for a kick" paralleling that of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb of Chicago is disclosed in the arrest of Earl Matthew Ryan, also of Chicago, aged 22, who has confessed that he and another youth whose name he "can't remember," broke into the D. L. Gregg Hardware Co. at 107 North Brand boulevard, on September 7, cracked the safe and made their get-away with $1,100 in cash.

Ryan appears well educated and is a student of criminology, he claims. He had been in Glendale only a short time, he said, and had turned burglar to study "from the inside" the criminal mind.

Rob Auto Agency
This same pair the same day broke into the Star agency at 115 West Harvard street and took $300 from the safe there, according to young Ryan's confession, made to Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department and Lieutenant W. J. Royle, head of the local detective squad.

Ryan, who was picked up by Pasadena officers, has confessed to five additional jobs in that city and Santa Ana, Chief Fraser states, and will be prosecuted in Pasadena.

Walter Clarence O'Ruff and Robert Caldwell Considine, the latter with a criminal record, have also been picked up by Pasadena police for burglary jobs in Glendale and elsewhere, and a number of Glendale residents have had stolen articles returned to them through the efforts of Chief Fraser and Lieutenant Royle.

Coolidge? Davis? LaFollette? DAVID LAWRENCE SAYS: West Silently But Just As Effectively Utters Its Favor For The Rugged, Honest, Simple, Unassuming Plain Man of The New England Hills

This is the second of a series of dispatches analyzing the trend of political sentiment in the states from Illinois to the Pacific, written after a visit by David Lawrence to virtually all the states in that region in a trip consuming thirty days of actual investigation. Mr. Lawrence begins today his study of the eastern and New England states.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

MIDWEST AMERICA, Oct. 18.—There is something hopeful, something buoyant about the spirit of the west today, which finds its reflex in politics, of course, but which makes the wayfarer feel the throb of ever-growing confidence that the dark days of depression have passed and that the dawn of a prosperous tomorrow has come.

It is not altogether due to the rise in the prices of agricultural products or the favorable crops. It is due to some extent to a feeling of stability, a feeling that the reconstruction of America's economic life following the war has come to a steady, upward, but assured pace. There is an air of progress, of things moving, of unrest dispelled, of great opportunity.

West Has 'Belief in Things as They Are'

He would be blind who saw no discontent, no symptom of political upheaval in the years to come if the west is left to hear its own protesting voice as the cry is raised for a lower tariff or a reduction in freight rates. President Coolidge has achieved a considerable strength on the farms as well as the cities of the west, but it would be a mistake for his supporters and advisers to interpret the votes that will be cast in his direction as due entirely to the enthusiasm of approval. It is in a sense a passive acquiescence, a belief in things as they are, in the maintenance of the status quo, but with it a hope for the future.

The west is changing. Co-operative marketing, diversified farming, improved methods of production, better credit facilities, motor transportation, all have played their part. The political parties have been torn by local strife and the wounds of the everlasting controversy between conservative and radicals. Persons mean more than issues as a factor in the balloting.

Coolidge's Strength in West Is 'Curious'

President Coolidge's strength with the voters of the west is a curious thing. It was the west which threw its hat in the air for the rip-roaring cowboy, the irrepressible T. R., of 1912. And today the west silently but just as effectively utters its favor for the rugged, honest, simple, unassuming plain man of the New England hills.

John W. Davis is always well spoken of. His speeches are commended and his record is applauded, but the west regards him as of the same school of thought as President Coolidge on most of the important issues of the day. The emphasis placed on La Follette at the left side of the political scene and Coolidge on the right, has meant a shunting to one side of Davis. Western sentiment which clamored for McAdoo has not accepted Davis as a substitute. This is not the fault of Davis. It is because his record was not that of achievement in office with respect to agricultural credits, and, generally speaking, a liberal radical. He would have carried many western states, but not all of them. The favorable economic conditions helps the party in power.

La Follette Movement Is 'One of Protest'

Had McAdoo been nominated, Senator La Follette probably would have thought twice about an independent campaign, as the railroad brotherhoods would have supported McAdoo financially and otherwise. His name was a symbol of what they stood for. As director of general of railroads, he was responsible for the very things which the railway employees are today striving to preserve or insure with respect to congressional action as they demonstrate their political power in the La Follette vote.

The La Follette movement calls itself "progressive" and argues that it is the inheritor of the Bull Moose spirit of 1912. It has many progressives in the ranks. There is no doubt about that. It has a platform with progressive doctrine, but the writer found the La Follette movement in the west nothing more nor less than a protest movement. It is not to be taken any less seriously for that reason, for its capacity to affect the political problems of the next few years cannot be underestimated.

Germans See Way to Express Their Gratitude

But, analyzing the component parts of the La Follette campaign, one finds it consists of those farmers who have had ill fortune and have not been able to recoup through one year of good crops, railway employees who are fighting against the railway executives and those who would tear down what advantages labor achieved during the war, and finally, Germans who see in La Follette an opportunity to express their gratitude to one who voted and argued against the war when the whole country was entering the fight with impassioned energy.

No program of social welfare, no specific proposals of concrete value as a solution of the many complex questions of the day, only an appeal to the man who imagines himself the under dog, the man who has lost confidence in the personnel of government, for one reason or another, and, lastly, the man with a grievance—this is the La Follette movement as it has been presented to the west. It may have constructive purposes. It may have plans to improve the condition of the poor man, but only those who are in a receptive frame of mind to accept cure-all promises are being led from their accustomed political paths to the third party ticket.

Democrats in West Give La Follette Support

The Democrats of the west, disillusioned about their own party's convention in New York, have given La Follette most of his support to La Follette, too. But the improvement in agricultural conditions has cut down that Republican radicalism to a large extent.

La Follette will poll a large vote. He will be second in most of the western states. But to achieve his objective he should have been running in 1920, when the west was despondent. It is not today free from worry or debt or care. But it has seen a ray of light at last. And that means a chance—an opportunity to win the battle of the last five years and a confidence that as European conditions improve, the long expected wave of real prosperity may not be far distant.

The change in La Follette's plans was announced here today by Progressive headquarters which made public simultaneously the telegram giving La Follette's summary of political conditions in the west.

JOKER FOUND IN VETS' AMENDMENT

Passage Would Invalidate All Legislation Anent Financial Aid

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Discovery of a "joker" in proposition No. 5 on the November ballot which would automatically invalidate all legislation extending financial aid to veterans was made today by Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, and resulted in the original sponsors of the measure issuing an urgent appeal for its defeat.

The flaw in the act was revealed when it was found that the amendment failed to carry over a previous amendment to the constitution authorizing veterans' aid. Veterans' organizations and school officials who were backing the new amendment immediately made plans for an intensive campaign to insure defeat of the faulty bill when it goes before the people November 4.

Both the veterans' farm and home purchase act and the veterans' educational aid act, under which thousands of former service men have been given assistance, would be invalidated by the passage of the new amendment, Wood said. A bond issue of $10,000,000 was voted by the people to aid former service men, under these two acts, about half of which has already been spent.

After a thorough examination of Mrs. Williams' body, Dr. J. J. Shea, county autopsy physician, told the police it was his opinion the woman had been strangled to death and that her neck bore the finger marks of her assailant to bear out this theory.

ISSUES GENERAL ORDER ON PARADE

Armistice Day Celebration Under Legion Auspices Outlined in G. O. No. 1

The first general order relative to the Armistice Day parade when Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, will emphasize the importance of patriotic duty, meaning of the constitution and loyalty, was issued today by Post Commander Joseph A. Wilson. The order follows:

1. Love manifests itself in service. Lip service is spurious. Those who are indifferent to the honor of living under the flag of the United States, and to the glory of being free men and women under the Constitution of the United States have no love for flag or country. Lip service is their characteristic. Praters about their love for the flag and their devotion to the Constitution, yet always refusing, except when compelled by law to do so, to make any small sacrifice in order that law might be maintained, are indifferent citizens. They are unmindful of the heroic love of our forefathers who suffered unbearable hardships culminating on bloody battlefields that we might be forever a free people. Indifferent citizenship is an insidious enemy of liberty. It is known by its display of ignorance of the provisions of our Constitution, and by its failure to render to the flag those outward marks of respect which the requirements of even plain good manners demand.

2. On Armistice Day, November 11, 1924, American Legion Post No. 127, re-enforced by the loyal citizens of Glendale, will attack this enemy. Glendale shall be the first city in the United States to make Armistice Day a day of service to the flag and to the Constitution by having all the activities of the day emphasize respect for the flag and devotion to the Constitution.

Sermons on Sunday

3. The service required of our citizens in order that our lifework will be successful is as follows:

(a) The pastors of the different churches, on Sunday, November 9, preceding Armistice Day, will have their congregations join in humble prayer to the good God, asking Him to bless our purpose that our efforts to serve our fellow citizens may be for His greater honor and glory. They will stress in appropriate sermons the love of God and country, and the duty of every loyal citizen to render service.

(b) On Armistice Day every home will display the flag of the United States at the front of the house.

(c) Each school will devote a short period of the school day to an explanation of the Constitution, and to instruction in the proper manner of showing respect for the flag.

(d) The high school will send a proper number of students in units of twenty to participate in the parade of the day. Each student will carry a small United States flag.

Display Flags

(e) The press will give full publicity to the purpose of the day and to the orders governing the day's activities. Each local paper will carry editorials on the Constitution and on the duty of the citizen to show always respect for the flag as an evidence of devotion to the principles of which it is the symbol.

(f) The business houses will close from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. Each place of business will display the flag of the United States. Display windows will be dressed in a manner to disseminate attractively knowledge of the Constitution of the United States by artistic cards setting forth its different provisions, particularly those containing the declaration of rights, and that the first ten are known as the American Bill of Rights.

Organizations in Line

(g) All organizations, fraternal, social, civic, and charitable, which have been invited to co-operate in the day's activities will participate in the parade. Political Pulse

Editor's Note—This is the seventh of a series of articles written by A. S. Hall, of The Glendale Evening News editorial staff, dealing with the political situation in Central and Middle West States, and in the South and Southwest. Material for this series was gathered by Mr. Hall on a tour of 6000 miles through Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. The next article of the series to appear in The Glendale Evening News will be: "The Queerest Issue in Campaign."

VII—WOOL AND WEATHER AID CAMPAIGN

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

Political leaders in all states have their own ideas about what will win campaigns. It used to be torch-light parades, with shiny oilcloth capes covered with swizzling grease. It used to be bands and banners: Red fire played a prominent part once upon a time. But times have changed.

Up in the wild and woolly state of Wyoming, so the writer was told while on a recent tour of the Rocky mountain region, they are giving all the credit for a certain sweeping Republican victory to two things—wool and weather.

It is not that the weather in Wyoming has been anything unusual this year; in fact, if old-timers are to be taken seriously, Wyoming has only two kinds of weather—poor and rotten—and this year the weather was classed by the old-timers as rotten.

Take Time to Talk
"You see, it's this way," said R. C. Rainey, a Wyoming rancher, who rode on the Union Pacific from Rawlins to Cheyenne with the writer, "we've been having some tolerable dry weather in Wyoming this summer. Crops won't be worth gathering in some places. Three months of arid weather such as only Wyoming can have."

"When things began to look pretty bad for the crops, why, the farmers had plenty of time to talk. They don't have to be in the fields much, as there isn't anything to do that will help the crops. So they gather around these small towns and talk, and, since this is a presidential year, why, they talked politics."

"Wool is one of the great things for Wyoming; in fact, it might be called our greatest industry. Of course, there is considerable mining around these parts, but miners and sheepmen don't mix any better than sheepmen and cowboys used to mingle in the old territorial days. And the sheepmen have come to realize that wool will again be the salvation of Wyoming this year, provided the tariff is not removed. So there you have it in a nutshell."

Protect Industry
The conclusions of Mr. Rainey are the conclusions of many citizens in Wyoming, observations show. The tariff on wool protects the sheep industry in that state, and the sheep raisers are anxious to see that the tariff is maintained. For that reason Wyoming will cast a heavy vote for the Republican party leaders, it is predicted.

Again the tariff enters into the matter when one considers the mining industry in Wyoming. Wyoming miners do not want to compete with Mexican miners, who work for less than the Wyoming men are getting, and mine owners are just as desirous to see the tariff on certain minerals kept where it is.

Should Wyoming citizens favor the Republican presidential candidate this year, it will be the sixth time in thirty-two years that the state voted for a Republican president. The other five times were in 1892, 1900, 1904 by a large majority, 1908 and 1920, which was two to one. Democratic presidential candidates were favored in 1896 by less than 200 majority, 1912, and 1916 by a majority of less than 7000.

Race for Governor
When Wyoming citizens are not discussing the presidential race, wool, weather or tariff, they are talking about the next governor concerning the day will be addressed to the same office.

By direction of the post commander, American Legion, Post No. 127.

E. E. McWain,
Adjutant.

CIVIC CENTER CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE GROWING

CROWD HEARS SPIRITED CONCERT

L. A. Philharmonic Orchestra
Delights Music Lovers
At Broadway High

Conductor Walter Henry Rothwell of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra treated Glendale music lovers to a spirited program last night at the Broadway high school. Opening with Schubert's immortal "Symphony No. 8 in B Minor," known as the "Unfinished symphony," he concluded the first half of the program with Tschalkowsky's well known "Casse Noisette Suite," repeating at the insistence of the audience the final number of the group of characteristic dances, "Dance des Mirallons," the dance of the toy pipers.

In this charming number the flutes first predominate, a horn then comes in and the brasses start a dance of charming accent, in which the whole ensemble joins, excepting the flutes, which are heard again at the close of this vivacious little gem.

Cello Soloist
Intermission was followed by the miniature "La Vieille de L'Ange Gardien," by Piere, after which Ilya Bronson charmed the audience with "Scene Religieuse" from the suite "Les Erynes." So successfully did this number go over that continued applause finally won from the great "cellist" consent to repeat it.

The last number on the program, Tschalkowsky's monumental "Overture Solennelle, The Year 1812," with its suggestion of the battle scene where Napoleon met disaster at Borodino, in Russia, proved a fitting conclusion to an evening of superb music. Here is a number that carries the patriotic feeling of a whole people, and in addition presents a mood of tragic grandeur that has perhaps never been equalled by another composer.

When the audience refused to leave the auditorium after this number, Conductor Rothwell yielded to its desire and rendered as an added number "Anitra's Dance, From the Peer Gynt Suite," by Greig, a charming thing that added the last touch of satisfaction to a splendid program.

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

Schoolboys who take the time to read and think will learn a lesson from an incident occurring in Los Angeles yesterday.

A bootlegger purveying to schoolboy trade, sordid as it may seem, was peddling DEADLY POISON, according to chemical analysis of the stuff purchased by one of his customers.

Nothing short of manslaughter in that man's business. And no one but fools or members of a suicide club would drink the illicit liquor. However, practically all bootleg booze is poison to a greater or less extent.

Boys—and old men, too—if you value your life do not drink poison, no matter how it is labelled or what assurances you have it is the "real stuff." The chances are too great.

San Francisco finally has good reason to complain of Los Angeles' good fortune. Not only did the air liner Shenandoah pass up the city of the Golden Gate in the fog of the night, but the new ZR-3 has been christened "Los Angeles," and will be known as the "peace ship." Also, Los Angeles is getting direct air mail service, its harbor has outstripped the volume of business done by the northern city, and yet—

San Franciscans are mighty good people. They have a great city with a splendid Oriental trade. Yes, they have stalwart Oakland to the right of them, the world to the left of them and Los Angeles a neighbor to them. And it is good to have a close relationship with these Californians, despite the fates which seem to overtake their efforts to enjoy all that should be San Francisco's own!

Coolidge now is a safe bet. If you have read David Lawrence's interesting summaries yesterday and today in The Glendale Evening News you will appreciate that the present president will remain in office. As a result, the stock markets display a more optimistic tone, and the public feels confident that prosperity is ahead.

Parent-Teachers Set Record at Candy Sale

A record in Parent-Teacher association ways and means affairs was set yesterday by the Cerritos Avenue P.T.A., when $20 was raised at a candy sale held at the school at noon. Mrs. E. B. Moore, finance chairman of the association, in charge, was particularly gratified because the sale was possible by contributions from the entire association.

FAIR SPEAKER RAPS G.O.P. ENEMIES

Miss Nellie Kelley, Speaking To Republican Club, Points To La Follette's Aim

"Senator La Follette stands for destroying the constitution and giving the rights and liberty of the people in the keeping of the Congress of the United States," was the declaration made yesterday afternoon at a Republican meeting at the John Robert White home, 347 North Orange street, by Miss Nellie E. Kelley of Minneapolis, Minn., speaker, in support of the Coolidge-Dawes campaign.

Miss Kelley gave a scholarly presentation of the Republican cause, saying in part:

Recalls Jefferson
"When the founders of our great nation were framing the Constitution of the United States Thomas Jefferson said, 'On questions of power, let no more be heard of confidence in man, but bind him down from mischief by the chains of the Constitution,' and that is exactly what young America did—bound down the government from the possibility of tyranny and oppression by ratifying this constitution that declares that the Congress make the laws not execute the laws or pass judgment on them; it desires that the president who administers the law may not pass judgment on, or make the laws; it provides for a supreme court with power to prevent Congress passing a law, or the president from enforcing a law that would take from the people their rights and freedom, or that would give one section of the country, or one class of people an advantage over another."

Coolidge Quoted
"We may well say with President Coolidge, 'We believe that the rights and liberty of the people are best preserved not by political but by judicial action. We believe that the safest place to declare and interpret the constitution, which the people have made, is in the Supreme Court of the United States. That tribunal has been made as independent and impartial as human nature could devise. Its action was taken with the sole purpose of protecting the freedom of the individual, of guarding his earnings, his home and his life.'"

Accused Girl Given to Juvenile Court Hands

Mary Gallagher, 17 years old, has been certified to the Los Angeles juvenile court by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, following her arrest at the St. James hotel, Glendale, on a charge of passing a bad check for $15 to Philip Cushman, manager of the Kafateria shoe store at 126 North Brand boulevard, on October 7.

Dobinson Players to Have Movie Star Guest

Conrad Nagel, movie star, and a party from Hollywood are planning to attend the performance tonight of the Dobinson Players at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre.

Adopt Resolution on Expenditure of Funds

The Southeast Glendale Improvement association held a special meeting last night at the Hobart residence, 712 East Palmer avenue. Forty members of the association were present and unanimously adopted a resolution, in reference to the expenditure of funds for protection against flood waters in Sycamore canyon wash as provided in the flood control bond issued adopted May 6, 1924. The resolution adopted follows:

"That the said funds be expended in the manner as provided in the proposal as submitted to and adopted by the people and according to the recommendation of Chief Engineer Reagan."

"J. C. LEITCH, President."

"D. R. GILLEN, Secretary."

A delegation from the association headed by Kemper Campbell, acting attorney and a member of the organization, will hold a hearing before the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, in the Hall of Records in Los Angeles, Monday morning at 11 o'clock, in regard to the matter.

Evening News Plant Inspected by Scouts

A delegation from Troop 9, Boy Scouts, including Roderick Scribner, Claire, Sherman and Harold Otis, Walter Russell, Jack Dietel and Jack Lewis, visited The Glendale Evening News this morning and were shown through the various departments by A. T. Cowan, publisher. Each Saturday morning members of the troop visit some business institution in Glendale.

Members of the troop held their regular meeting last night in the Broadway Grammar school, when plans were made for a hike to Big Tujunga canyon. The boys plan to leave here Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and spend the night at Tujunga canyon, returning on Saturday afternoon. Dr. Warren Z. Newton is scoutmaster and the troop is sponsored by the Rotary club. Roderick Scribner is senior patrol leader, and Jack Lewis and Curtis McFadden are patrol leaders.

'Country Cousin' Seen By Prominent People

The success of "The Country Cousin" as presented by the Dobinson Players at the Club Playhouse is being proclaimed on every side, and parties are motoring to Glendale from outlying districts to see this offering. Friday night Mr. Van de Grift of the Pilgrimage Play was host to a party of thirty-five people, and Colonel and Mrs. Roberts were hosts to a party of friends. Miss Rosamonde Joyzelle and Miss Thyra Ruhland of the Dobinson Players were former members of the Pilgrimage Play, and many floral tributes were presented to the company in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley Jackson and the employees of the postoffice, together with their families, were the guests of Mrs. Florence Dobinson, as were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deak and a number of employees of the telephone company.

Miss Gertrude Kellar, as Nancy Price, the country cousin, has fascinated audiences with her portrayal of this character. In her denunciation of the so-called "people of distinction" she proves her histrionic ability on the stage. John Vosburgh as George Towles, a superior gentleman, is fine. Richard Ehlers as Sam Wilson, the ambitious country boy, and Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as Eleanor Howitt, the rich little country girl, shows splendid achievement in dramatic interpretation.

FAST TRAIN TO APPEAR IN CITY

Sunset Limited, With Fine Hotel Service, Will Be Exhibited Oct. 25

The new Sunset Limited of the Southern Pacific lines, a speeding hotel with barber shop, bath, valet and maid service, will be on exhibition at the Glendale station, foot of Cerritos avenue, from 4:30 until 5:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 25, when a community program will be staged in honor of this crack train that will make the fastest time ever accomplished from this city to New Orleans, carrying passengers from here to the Gulf metropolis in fifty-six hours and thirty-five minutes.

This announcement comes from Henry L. Legrand, ticket agent in charge of the Southern Pacific office at 106 North Brand boulevard. While he is unable to give out any details of the proposed celebration at this date, plans are under way to make it a civic event of importance, he states, and people from all the surrounding communities will be given an opportunity to inspect from locomotive to observation car this fast all-steel flier.

The new Sunset Limited will make its premiere run Saturday, November 1, states Mr. Legrand, leaving Glendale at 7:54 o'clock in the morning, arriving at El Paso at 8:40 o'clock the morning of the next day and pulling into New Orleans at 7:35 o'clock the next night, where direct connection can be made for Washington, and New York.

New equipment of steel construction throughout has been provided for the Sunset Limited, with the aim of offering every modern convenience possible for the comfort of travelers, Mr. Legrand states. In addition to carrying a barber shop, bath, providing maid and valet service and many other superior appointments, this train is made up of standard Pullmans only, he states, carrying no tourist cars.

The Sunset Express, another fast Southern Pacific transcontinental train, will henceforth handle the tourist sleeper to the national capital, which heretofore has been carried on the Sunset Limited. This train will leave Glendale at 7:45 o'clock in the morning, arriving at New Orleans at 11:45 o'clock, its present schedule, he states, and its running time to New Orleans will be improved.

"These two trains will greatly facilitate the handling of the constantly increasing tourist and homeseeker travel to and from Glendale and other Pacific coast cities," says Mr. Legrand, "and it is with real pride that I am able to announce that Glendale will be one of the stop towns made en route from San Francisco to New Orleans."

"The new Sunset Limited is the finest, fastest train operated in the transcontinental service, the most modern, completely appointed 'speed with safety' limited on rails today. All Glendalians should avail themselves of the opportunity offered Saturday afternoon, October 25, to inspect this magnificent train at the Cerritos avenue station."

Hardware Firm Sees Need of Gas Heaters

James Webb, proprietor of the Glendale Hardware Co., 601 East Broadway, in commenting recently on early fall business conditions, stated that the cool evenings and mornings have brought many folks to his store in search of gas heaters. Mr. Webb said he foresaw a big demand for heaters and made his plans accordingly, with the result that he has a large stock of heaters on hand ready for shoppers.

Among the brands of heaters handled by the Glendale Hardware Co. are the Lawson and the New Method Radiant heater. Wedgewood gas heaters have been gaining in popularity with Glendale housewives, he said. This is the range that has the automatic heat control and enables the housewife to prepare her meals in advance, place the food in the oven and go away and let it cook for three to six hours, and, upon her return, find her meal ready to serve. The company is the exclusive distributor for the Maytag electric washing machines in Glendale, the department managed by H. J. Cox.

Scottish Art, Artists Subject of Discussion

Scottish art and artists were the subjects discussed last night at the meeting of the Glendale Art association at the public library. Walter L. Cheever was in charge of the round table discussion. Ballagh, president of the association, said the association members and guests are learning much on art and artists of other countries, at these meetings.

Dancing in Pavilion
The big pavilion at Whiting's ranch has been secured for dancing. Music will be furnished by the Elks' orchestra. The best route suggested to reach the picnic ground is to take the Verdugo road to Honolulu avenue and turn west for 1½ miles to Whiting's ranch.

Plan Business Survey Of City for Campaign

The Glendale Community Chest will conduct a business survey of Glendale for two or three days, beginning at 9 o'clock Monday morning, October 20. Roy L. Kent, chairman of the executive committee for the campaign, said: "This survey is being taken in order to prevent duplication of solicitation, and by obtaining the full cooperation of the business men in this survey, we will be able to save a great deal of time, both to the campaign workers of the Glendale Community Chest and to the general public."

Flaners and Chief Aviation Machinist Mate Robert Kerr will be buried with military services at North Island.

Dead children are being taught to read by the aid of radio at an institution in New York.

Signers of Petitions Asked To Co-operate In Drive To Carry Issue

The Civic Center Campaign committee swelled its membership to fifty at a meeting held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at campaign headquarters, 102 East Harvard street, and went over in detail the literature that is to be mailed out to the 2300 signers of the petition to bring this proposition before the voters again on November 4. The meeting was presided over by H. M. Butts, vice-chairman, in the absence of Chairman D. H. Smith.

Mr. Butts read a letter that is to accompany this literature, in which the people who put their names on this petition are urged to co-operate in a whirlwind campaign to put over the proposition, which asks the voters to favor the $650,000 bond issue to acquire the Harvard High school site for a Civic Center, including city hall, park, comfort station, gymnasium, plunge and other municipal buildings.

New Members

David Carney was appointed chairman of finance, in place of J. E. Barney, who could not serve. To the forty-three names already on the Civic Center Campaign committee roster were added those of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Nathan Rigdon, F. W. Parr, C. A. O'Brien, W. Levy, Stephen Packard and George H. Kurr.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, announced that Foster & Kleiser, billboard advertisers, had assured her they would donate free space for any worthy civic purpose. C. Berger, chairman of the precinct organization committee, distributed automobile stickers. It was decided to hold the next meeting at campaign headquarters, 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, October 21.

Glendalians Urged to Hear W.C.T.U. Speaker

"I heard Mrs. Mary Harris ARMOR, noted W. C. T. U. worker and lecturer, in a masterful address at the state convention in Pasadena this week, and I want a crowded auditorium to greet her Tuesday night, when she speaks at the Glendale Presbyterian church," said Mrs. C. W. Bacon, president of the Glendale W. C. T. U., today. Mrs. ARMOR is a W. C. T. U. speaker of international note, and a W. C. T. U. leader of influence, and carries a message for both old and young. Her messages are eloquent and on a critic says of her that she is recognized today and will be known in history as one of America's greatest women.

There will be music by the high school orchestra and community singing, led by Park Arnold.

A woman recently conducted the orchestra at Queen's Hall, one of London's famous music places.

REAL ESTATE ADVANCE DUE

Stressing the remarkable progress made by Glendale and avowing his faith in its further advance, Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, in an address before a teachers' institute in Glendale recently counseled the teachers to invest the surplus of their earnings in Glendale real estate.

Mr. Keppel related that he was present, about twenty years ago, at the laying of the cornerstone of the original Glendale High school, which was located at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway. At that time, he stated, fifty foot lots on Brand could be bought for $100 and went begging at the price.

Stories like this which indicate the marvelous advance in real estate values in Glendale are very interesting, but not new. They can be heard any day in the week on any street corner in Glendale. They are being told and retold by those who wish they had bought, when they could have had for a few hundred dollars, lots now worth thousands and tens of thousands.

Mr. Keppel, in his official capacity, has been traveling up and down and across Los Angeles county for a good many years. He has seen great and wonderful changes, and his observations have qualified him to make predictions. Like others who have observed and weighed all the evidence carefully, he has come to the only possible conclusion, that Glendale history is about to repeat itself. Those who are telling of the fortunes they could have made would better buy now in order to take advantage of the next rise in value which is on the way. If Mr. Keppel did not believe this, he would not make the suggestion he did to the teachers of Glendale to whom he stands in the capacity of adviser.

Only a little more than two weeks remain until the national election. If president Coolidge is re-elected, confidence will be re-established and there will be a tremendous impetus given to business. Then Glendale real estate will go soaring again. Those who bought some years ago and held their property through the years of depression, when taxes seemed a burden, have been well repaid.

PEACE IS HARMONY OF SOULS

That the Dawes plan is not a magic formula that will bring peace to the world is the warning of Ernest Ludwig, author and former member of the Austro-Hungarian and the Hungarian foreign service. Peace, he says, is a harmony of souls. Peace would mean a general recovery of business and a brighter outlook for export trade, but these things in themselves cannot bring peace. He goes on to say that the tragic mistake of the Paris peace conference is that it created a League of Nations to perpetuate the conditions of the peace treaties before it actually accomplished peace.

Universal peace will be accomplished when all the nations of the world want it. Peace is a state of mind and one nation alone cannot consummate it. Peace must be in the hearts of all the nations before it can become a reality in the world. And that will never be until all the nations of the world accept the spirit of the teachings of Christ; when all nations become Christian, not alone in name, but in truth.

As long as one of two individuals, who are associated, is self-seeking and bears ill-will toward the other, there cannot be perfect peace and understanding between them no matter how devoutly the one may wish for it or believe it to be so. The time will come when this under-current of misunderstanding will come to the surface and make trouble and create discord between them. The same is true of nations. The wish for peace must be mutual if there is to be no more war.

SOVIET DENOUNCES DAWES PLAN

Russian Soviet leaders are said to be trying to get the German people excited by telling them that the Dawes plan means the virtual enslavement of Germany. But Germany is under no delusions as to the value of the plan, for she knows that the task before her is much lighter now than it was before the plan was adopted. The Germans realize that the administration of the plan will benefit them as well as the other nations of Europe, because it promises the restoration of industry and the ultimate settlement of war obligations. In fact, it promises so much for Germany that her rivals are apprehensive. All of Britain was glad to see the Dawes plan adopted, and yet the London Times looks at the matter in this light:

"So long as Germany, as an economic unit, was in a state of disorganization, her power to compete in the markets of the world was restricted, but now that there is a prospect of stabilization, it is recognized, as Sir Robert Horne has pointed out, that there is real danger of a recurrence in a more intensified form of the fierce competition for foreign markets that characterized the era immediately preceding the outbreak of the war."

Germany will not only not be enslaved by the Dawes plan, but will be the first nation to profit by its operation.

NEWSPAPERS PURVEYORS OF KNOWLEDGE

It is questionable whether the modern newspaper should be recommended to students as a good example of literary style, but the newspaper should be studied to gain a wide general knowledge of the things that are going on in the world. The most learned professor of history, science, language or any other subject cannot be said to be educated unless he knows those things that can be learned only from the newspapers. This information may not always be presented with a nice distinction as to what is most important, but it is part of the education of the reader to make these selections and distinctions for himself.

No one who reads the daily newspapers ever so cursorily or so casually could make such replies to questions as those recently given by applicants for positions as instructors in a normal school in Wisconsin. It is safe to say that most of the grammar and high school students of the country could have answered these questions correctly. These men and women who were applying for positions to teach others defined Oberammergau as a German politician, DeValera as a Mexican bandit, Lloyd George as king of England, Helen Keller as an airplane flyer, Mussolini as a region in Asia, tariff as a city in France, Babe Ruth as the world's champion pugilist, Steinmetz as a piano manufacturer, Governor Pinchot as a race horse and Obregon as a province in Germany.

In the light of our present knowledge, entirely too many laws designed for the protection of the public's health are ridiculously at variance with the scientific facts upon which they are supposed to be founded.

ICEBERG DEAD AHEAD, SIR

War

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The chemists have declared war, and it is the kind of war in which everyone can engage. It is a war against waste, disease, poverty, misery, sorrow and narrow-mindedness.

Dr. Leo Hendrik Baekeland, president of the American Chemical society and professor of chemical engineering in Columbia university, says that "during the war, and previous to the war, it was supposed that Germany had a monopoly of the chemists of the earth. But the outbreak of the war compelled the public to realize the importance of the chemists of the United States and that Germany was not the only place on earth where chemists may be born and reared. German chemists have been remarkably advertised, but other countries have shown a very favorable comparison with them."

"Thousands of chemists in this country, excellent chemists, who, like the silent servant in the House, have been doing sterling work unnoticed, have been solving endless problems connected with the growth of our industries, our agriculture, the sanitation of our towns and the general development of the United States."

The war is now over, even if the Allies in Europe keep quarreling among themselves. The chemist is back on his old job. The kind of war he prefers is a war of peace where he wears no uniform, although sometimes he risks his life as much as in the trenches.

This war is against waste, disease and ignorance, the breeders of all calamities. Dr. Baekeland says that, while the human race has often suffered from knowledge without idealism, it has also suffered from idealism without knowledge. It is the task of our schools and colleges and universities to teach this to our graduating chemists, and it is the duty of our chemists to work and live accordingly.

If there is any future war its success will largely be determined by problems of the chemists.

The average man becomes acquainted with the achievements of chemistry only as they have led to visible results in our industry. But he does not know that there exists in the United States numerous groups of men little known outside of their own field who are building up the very foundations on which future progress depends.

This is a work which may well merit the cooperation of all groups of people, since it is a war against the real enemies of the human race and has not to do with a war of one company or nation of people against another.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

IN 1872 Grant's fame will always be that of a great soldier. The presidency was not a position for which his training and experience had fitted him. But he wanted to be re-elected—every president does.

A widespread "greenback" sentiment had been growing up—the old economic fallacy of a busy printing press and "cheap money." A convention of "Greenbackers" under the name of the Labor Reform party, was held in February of 1872 and, after adopting a platform endorsing the greenback theory; protesting against Chinese labor; advocating a one-year term for the presidency; federal regulation of railroad and telegraph rates; "the use of military power for federal purposes alone;" an eight-hour day; civil service reform and a few other things, nominated David Davis, associate justice of the Supreme court for president and Joel Parker of New Jersey, a prominent "war Democrat" who had served with credit as governor of his state—for vice-president. These gentlemen declined their nominations—though they waited until they saw "how the cat was going to jump" at the Liberal Republican convention before they did so—and Charles O'Connor, the eminent New York lawyer, became the nominee of the Labor Reform party, with no vice-presidential nomination.

The Prohibition party had grown to national size and for the first time put a presidential candidate in the field, naming James Black of Pennsylvania, long a leader in the prohibition cause, for president, and John Russell of Michigan, for vice-president. Opposition to Grant had crystallized into the Liberal Republican party. At its convention in May it nominated Horace Greeley for president and H. Grant Brown, a well-known journalist, then governor of Missouri, for vice-president. It was a great day for newspaper men—two editors on the ticket. The Democratic convention endorsed Liberal Republican candidates. The regular Republican convention met in June and nominated Grant by acclamation; Henry Wilson of Massachusetts, one of the founders of the Republican party, was nominated for vice-president.

A faction of the Democratic party, unable to "swallow" Greeley, held a convention and nominated Charles O'Connor, already the labor reform candidate, for president and Charles Francis Adams of Massachusetts for vice-president. It was a memorable campaign. When the returns came in poor Greeley's heart was broken and he died before the electoral vote was cast. Of the popular vote Grant had 3,597,132; Greeley, 2,834,125; O'Connor, 29,489; Black, 5,608. Of the electoral vote Grant and Wilson received a like number, 286. Greeley being dead the Greeley electors cast forty-two votes for Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana, destined to greater prominence four years later, and eighteen for Brown for president with three scattering. For vice-president Brown received forty-two votes and there were nine scattering.

Horoscope

Friendly stars rule this day, according to astrology. The Sun, Mars and Saturn are all in benefic aspect.

Under this sway it is well to push all big enterprises, especially those connected with mines or real estate.

Persons in places in the Sun have reason to expect great good fortune, but they may have some anxiety or surprise that is not pleasant.

Again military men command interest, and new honors may be expected for a general. Constructive work is subject to the best possible influences, and the way should encourage certain kinds of building.

There will be much work for physicians and surgeons, but there will be much accomplished in checking diseases.

Promoters and all who have ideas to sell should benefit greatly at this time, when there will be reason to push big projects.

The conjunction of Venus and Neptune may be unfavorable to agriculture. Wet and stormy weather may cause heavy losses to farmers in certain parts of the country.

A serious crisis will be met in Central Europe, if the stars are to be believed, and it will have far-reaching effect.

There will be renewed interest in immigration problems at this time, when many refugees will look toward this country.

Russia again is to go through a period of upheaval and an orgy of crime is forecast.

Diplomatic blunders, political disputes and complications in regard to legislation are presaged.

Persons whose birthdate it is have a happy augury for the coming year. Those who are employed probably will receive benefits.

Children born on this day will be active, clever and persevering in all probability. They should rise rapidly in any vocation they adopt.

"Oh, that's all right," the farmer called back, "I helped myself to your tools while you were in the orchard!"

Who's Who

Dr. Eduard Benes, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, father of the Little Entente and master builder of the arbitration and security protocol in the League of Nations, is the ablest of the younger statesmen of the new Europe. Like Trotsky on the left of him, and like Mussolini on the right of him, Benes is a realist statesman, but he is pursuing the middle course.

Like Lenin and Trotsky and like Mussolini, he is an outgrowth of the World War. Lenin and Trotsky assumed the dictatorship of the proletariat when the Russian masses had become exhausted from the war; Mussolini made himself dictator of Italy by force when the Italian masses were drifting to chaos in the war's aftermath, dissatisfied with the older statesmen and leaders; Benes, the disciple of the idealist Masaryk, worked during the war for the restoration of his own nation and has worked ever since then for the rehabilitation of Europe.

His Little Entente met with criticism and resistance at first, but it has shown signs of life and has encouraged harmony rather than strife among the smaller nations.

Now the eyes of the world are focused on Eduard Benes and his reconstruction plan for the promotion of durable peace through the League of Nations.

Benes is daring, picturesque, constructive, practical. Even his enemies admit his courage and his genius. Professor Masaryk in Washington and Eduard Benes in Paris really created Czechoslovakia during the war and at the peace conference. Their eloquent pleas and their forceful arguments won to their cause the allied statesmen and particularly the deep sympathies of President Wilson and Colonel House.

On October 14, 1918, when the first provisional cabinet was formed, with Professor Masaryk and General Stefanik at its head, Benes was entrusted with the portfolio of the ministry of foreign affairs of the Czechoslovak republic, which he has held ever since. During the peace conference Benes, with Masaryk, headed the Czechoslovak delegation. He returned to Prague in 1919, and his nomination for the post of

MAKE PLANS FOR FURTHER DEVELOPMENT OF CITY

NEW YORK IN LEAD FOR BUILDING

Straus Report on Activities For First Nine Months Is Made Public

Building activities throughout the country during the first nine months of the year were 6 per cent ahead of the corresponding period in 1923, according to the national monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Co., just completed. For September, the gain over the same month last year in building permits and plans filed in the 395 leading cities and towns of the country covered by the survey, was 9 per cent.

The total for the nine months period was $2,733,000,000 compared with $2,568,000,000 last year. The eastern and western sections showed creditable gains, while the central and far western states revealed slight losses.

New York Leads
Among the large cities, New York made an outstanding record during the three-quarters of the year, the total in plans filed for the period being $681,693,000 compared with $575,015,000 last year, a gain of $106,678,000 or nearly 20 per cent. Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Baltimore, Dallas, Denver, Providence, Louisville and Rochester made gains worthy of notice.

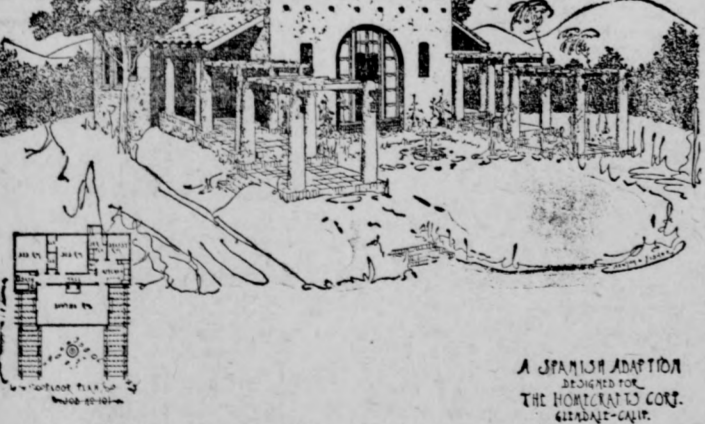

Every section of the country displayed increased activity in September as compared with the same month in 1923, although the gain in New York was nominal while Chicago displayed a $5,000,000 decline.

The twenty-five leading cities gained about $12,000,000 over the same month last year, and slightly more than $5,000,000 over, 1922.

Outstanding gains for the month were recorded in Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, San Francisco, Washington, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Denver and Providence.

Editor Lauds Papers For Aid to Realtors

George E. Henry, editor of the National Real Estate Journal, recognized by the realtors of the world as the authority on real estate and widely read as the outstanding real estate magazine of the nation came from Chicago to attend the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association. In his four days at Pasadena, Mr. Henry filed over 10,000 words for his publication and no single bit of advertising and publicity at the convention will overshadow in importance the story which will appear in the National Real Estate Journal.

The co-operation of the press in the realty world of California was loudly praised by Mr. Henry, who saw in the hearty assistance of the newspapermen one of the reasons why the California Real Estate association had grown so rapidly. In the reporter's headquarters at the convention, Mr. Henry met thirty-five press representatives at one time and was struck with the enthusiasm they showed for the work at hand, paying particular attention to the development news of the state and playing down the individual.

This, to Mr. Henry, was one of the most interesting features of the convention, which he said was the largest, with the exception of the national convention, he had ever attended.

Dairy Products Shown To Be Valuable Asset

Reports gathered in the San Joaquin valley by Al C. Joy, a member of the board of directors of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce, and by him presented to the realtors of California indicate the great value of the dairying industry in this state.

According to Mr. Joy's figures the combined return for 1923 from the three greatest fruit crops of California, oranges, raisins and prunes, was, in round figures, $90,000,000. The combined return of these three crops and the walnut crop was $100,000,000. Leaving out walnuts, the combined value of oranges, raisins, prunes, almonds, cherries, figs, olives and plums was $101,000,000. Yet the humble cow, represented in the dairies of California, returned last year $10,000,000, substantially more than the greatest of the fruit crop combinations. Dairy production, according to Mr. Joy, is preponderantly California's greatest agricultural resource.

Ritters crushed Cosamono's head with a shovel after Cosamono slashed him with a knife, police said.

INDUSTRIAL MEETING PLANNED

Realtors of State to Gather At Anaheim December 6 To Select Policy

Statewide interest is being manifested in the first industrial conference of the California Real Estate association to be held under the auspices of the Anaheim Realty Board at Anaheim, December 6.

President Everett A. White of the state association is a resident of Santa Ana and he is giving the industrial conference his personal attention. From all sections of California will come men prominent in the industrial development of the state and ways and means of conducting an intensive campaign to locate new industries in California will be discussed by the realtors from north and south.

First Conference
The business, commercial and industrial divisions of the state association, at the convention in Pasadena, marked the first step by the realtors of California to unite in an effort to use the same methods to obtain industries for California that is being successfully employed to bring new settlers to the state. While it is understood that much more time and study will be required to prevail upon new industries to locate in California, the industrial realtors of the state believe that united effort will increase the influx of industries.

To that end the first industrial conference of the state association has been called and the Elks' hall at Anaheim will be the scene of the meeting on December 6.

Scouts Plan Hike to Tujunga Canyon Soon

Members of Troop 1, Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, held a meeting at the Central Methodist church last night when they made plans for the hike to Tujunga canyon Friday, October 24. The boys plan to leave the Harvard High school at 4:30 o'clock and each troop will provide means of transportation. Drill practice occupied a portion of the evening and it was decided that all members of the troop will drill for a certain length of time at each meeting instead of only a few members of the troop. Leslie Cannon was a new member voted into the troop. J. E. Greenup, troop committeeman, and R. N. Taylor, troop committeeman at large, were present and passed the scouts in tests. L. E. Wilson, scout commissioner, told the details for the hike. R. N. Taylor has invited the troop members to his home to pass tests each week.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Ruth Bineham, in cross complaint filed to the divorce suit of Harvey E. INCREASE IN PROPERTY VALUES

Annual Statement Issued by State Controller Shows Big Gains Made

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—California property is increasing in value at the rate of nearly a billion dollars a year, according to the annual statement of State Controller Ray L. Riley.

Controller Riley fixed the 1924 value of all property in the state at $6,661,409,392, as against $5,716,358,058 last year, making an increase of $943,051,334 during the twelve months' period.

BUILDING BEGINS BY HOMECRAFTS

Corporation on E. Colorado To Erect Six-Room House On Rossmoyne

The Homecrafts Corporation, 416-18 East Colorado, will start Monday on the construction of a high-class six-room house, English type, special design, on Lot 8, Block 21, Rossmoyne avenue, sold to a Los Angeles business man from plans and specifications prepared by its engineering department. The company has a number of houses of exceptional design with construction nearing completion in the Rossmoyne section, and plans in preparation for additional homes, ranging in price from $12,500 to $30,000.

The phenomenal growth of Glendale is spreading, and the outlook is exceedingly bright for a winter of most satisfactory activity in local real estate. The city is filling up and good homes properly priced are in constant demand.

The Homecrafts reports a perceptible increase in the number of home seekers.

Glendale's Air Mail Increases 5 Pounds

Since the campaign begun by the Chamber of Commerce several days ago to increase the amount of air mail being sent from Glendale, the daily amount has increased from one to five pounds. This advance was materially helped by the Kress five and ten-cent store agreeing to send out a certain amount each day, and as much more as possible. The factories have also increased their output. Howard L. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, also requests private citizens to send what mail they can via the new service as Glendale must send out 35 pounds per day to insure direct service to eastern points.

Luncheon Committee Members Plan Program

Members of the Greater Glendale Luncheon club committee of the Chamber of Commerce met last night and completed arrangements for the luncheon next week. This will be under the chairmanship of George Orgibet. A mysterious personage, Mr. Dollar Bill, was present last night, and will be the principal speaker next week. He is a recent arrival in Glendale and has a message of importance for all Glendale merchants. The slogan being passed to merchants between now and next week's luncheon is, "Meet Dollar Bill."

Real Estate Convention Largest Ever Held And Success In All Details

With a registration more than twice that of any previous convention held in the twenty years of its history, the California Real Estate association's convention which closed last Saturday in Pasadena reached the high water mark in real estate confabs.

Not only was it the largest real estate convention of the California Real Estate association, but it was the largest state real estate convention ever held in the world.

In excess of 1400 registrations were made by men and women from all parts of the state. Seventy-two real estate boards sent representatives.

The largest individual delegation from north of the Tehachapi was that of the Oakland Real Estate board.

More than 200 registered from Pasadena, while Orange county sent 100 delegates in a big parade.

Sacramento won the attendance prize, indicating that the interest of the realtors in California is statewide, and that no one section of the state can usurp the convention honors. Matters of vital interest to the profession were discussed and through the various divisional meetings realtors from all sections of California exchanged ideas and discussed ways and means of intensively developing the resources of the state.

Even Honolulu was represented at the meeting, and so great was the interest outside of California in the convention that The National Real Estate Journal sent its editor from Chicago to cover the development of real estate in California as exemplified in the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association.

Wait for Election
J. E. Barney, of Barney & Shook, realtors, at 131 North Brand boulevard, expressed the opinion that a great many people were waiting for election before making any heavy investments. This, he said, also applied to many eastern investors, who will wait until after election before coming to California.

Mr. Barney was enthusiastic in his statement that 1925 would see the best business Glendale has enjoyed in its history. He said there is still lots of room for rental property, both dwelling and business, and the great influx of people next year will necessitate even greater building activity this year. He urges the building of more manufacturing plants as the great-

Cold Storage Butter Jumps Above Average
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 18.—Cold storage supplies of butter and American cheese have "jumped" markedly in the past year. Butter in storage totals 153,271,000 pounds as against 96,000,000 a year ago and cheese stores total 73,087,000 pounds, as against 62,384,000. Eggs have fallen off from 43,834,000 dozen a year ago to 31,038,000 dozen. Frozen poultry has increased from 33,142,000 to 40,090,000 pounds.

PREDICT INDUSTRIES WILL HELP GROWTH OF GLENDAL

Program to Put Economic Life of Community On Firmer Foundation Being Prepared by Realtors and Chamber of Commerce

More industries, a city independent of tourist trade and with its economic life on a firmer foundation, is the war cry of the city's realtors and the Chamber of Commerce, who are working in harmony for the further development of Glendale.

More business next year and more prosperity than Glendale has ever seen is the general consensus of opinion. At the office of the realty board the records show more listings in September and more sales so far this month than there have been any one month since April.

Miss Winnifred Traver, secretary of the board, said there have been more inquiries by investors during the past couple of weeks than there has been for several months; also rentals have been more active.

He urges the building of more manufacturing plants as the greatest factor in the city's development especially the smaller factories employing skilled labor. He spoke of the proximity of Glendale to the cotton supply and believed that textile plants would be most suitable.

New Hotels Help
M. C. Calkins, of the R. N. Stryker office, 215 North Brand boulevard, believes the building of two hotels is a step forward in the progress of Glendale. Construction work on the hotel at Brand boulevard and California street, being financed by Boyd W. Doyle of Pasadena and Leslie P. Mick of Los Angeles, is expected to commence about the first of November. This will be a four-story, class A building of 150 rooms, with thirteen stores on the ground floor.

Mr. Calkins mentioned the stadium that is contemplated and the need of bringing conventions and large gatherings to Glendale. With the hotels and the stadium, these could be accommodated, and from the guests present many permanent residents would be secured, he said.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

"Dear Doctor Peters:—I want to tell you my experience in following your articles on 'Diet and Health' running in our paper.

"When I started your advice, I weighed 238 pounds. In ten months I had reduced to 170 pounds and am now able to hold this weight without much trouble. I have good color now, and am in the best of health. No more 238 for me! When people ask me why I looked sick and was getting so thin, I always would laugh and tell them I had quit eating and would refer them to you. All your articles have done just as you said they would do, and I'm mighty glad I read them.—Mrs. K."

Congratulations, Mrs. K. Sixty-eight pounds in ten months is an average of 1.7 pounds a week. That is a good safe rate of reduction. While reducing, one may look peaked and unhappy. Perhaps this happens in half of the cases. However, after reduction is completed and the maintenance diet resumed, that disagreeable phase passes as Mrs. K. can testify. Without exception, during reducing, one feels 100 per cent better and it is too bad that the facial appearance doesn't always show that. If you have had a good color and lose it while reducing, I think it is wise to apply a little rouge judiciously, because the adverse comments of your friends may weaken your morale.

GLAND STUFF—
"Dear Doctor Peters:—Please send me your article on baldness, dandruff and graying hair.
"Can you give me the formula for peeling the face to remove wrinkles, some remedy I can use myself? Also, is there any truth in the gland stuff we read about? Will it restore youth to such an extent that one's sight will return and the slow, lagging step become brisker? Is there anything this side of Heaven that will?—Mrs. I. R."

The articles you requested have been sent if you enclosed the self-addressed, stamped envelope. Did you do that? Sorry, I cannot give you a formula for peeling the face. That is done successfully, I am told, by skillful skin specialists, but it would be dangerous to do it yourself.
The reports as to gland therapy

(gland transplantation operations) are contradictory. Some surgeons claim that goat glands or whatever animal glands are used, are absorbed almost immediately and that any rejuvenating effect is all in the mind. Others report that in a certain percentage of the cases, the gland becomes a part of the tissues and gives out its internal secretion. Gland therapy is still in the experimental stage.

However, there is something that will rejuvenate and that will prevent premature senility and that is safe, reliable and non-expensive: That's a normal diet, some vigorous muscular exercise and a proper mental attitude toward the problems of life.

We believe that a normal diet should contain a pint to a quart of milk, liberal amounts of vegetables especially the green leafy vegetables, whole grains, fruit and nuts; in other words, a natural diet. We know that animals that are fed on deficient diets become shriveled and old in appearance, lose the glossiness of their fur, and their pep, just like an old person does. You remember a short time ago, I wrote an article concerning the youthful looking Himalayans. Dr. McGarrison, who worked among them, ascribes their longevity and youthfulness to the fact that they live on natural foods, that they have a great deal of exercise, and that they are teetotalers. Us for the Himalayan rejuvenation!!!

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose your condition or to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest, don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Sleeve of Sweater: Holding outside of garment toward you, pick up and knit 50 stitches around armhole, then work even till sleeve is four inches long. Narrow one stitch at each end of every sixth row, till 44 stitches remain. Work even till sleeve measures 12 inches long.

Now change to the number three and one-half needles and make cuff as follows: K two, P two, for two and one-half inches, working last row on outer surface of sleeve. * Change to Brown and K one row, K two, P two, for one row. Work two rows in same way with the white angora wool, then inside the yellow angora wool. Repeat from * until brown stripe has been worked four times, after it make two rows of white and bind off.

Collar: This is called a turtle collar because it rolls back from under the chin in a deep, warm fold. Holding outer surface of sweater toward you, with white wool pick up 76 sts. around neck, using num. three and one-half double-pointed needles. The stitches should be picked up on three needles, 24 stitches each on two needles, and 28 sts. on the third needle. With white K two, P two, for one inch, then with Brown K two, P two, for two rounds, then with white again, for two more rounds. Turn sweater inside out, knitting rounds of remainder of collar in opposite direction. * With the yellow wool, K one round, then K two, P two, for one round. Repeat last two rounds with brown, then with white. Repeat from * till brown stripe has been worked six times, then continue with the white alone till collar is five and one-half inches deep. Bind off loosely, to allow collar to slip over head easily.

Sew up seams, then brush the sweater with a soft brush.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

A DOUBLE CHIN

There is really no excuse for a double chin, at least not this side of 60. If you are too fat, you can, and you should, reduce; and your chin will be the first part of you to show the improvement. If you are young and your chin sags because you hold your head wrong, a little massage will overcome the damage. And if you are getting old, chin straps, ice packs, massage, cold cream, "mud" and several other correctives are at your service.

A few weeks ago we talked of chin straps, which any woman can buy or make. They should be worn at night and they are good, because for seven or eight hours out of the twenty-four, they hold the chin snugly to clean, youthful, slim lines. They can be used with creams or with astringent lotions, according to whether you want to feed a wrinkled skin or tighten up a stretched one.

I would suggest, if you do not wish chin straps (they are rather ridiculous looking) that you try the white of egg treatment. Egg white is an extraordinary astringent, whose virtues have not yet been properly appreciated, though many firms use it as a base for toilet preparations.

Put the white part of the egg into a glass, a graduated one if you have it, and add to it the same amount of cologne or toilet water. If you haven't a graduated glass, the cologne can be poured into another tumbler sitting by the one with the egg, until the level of the cologne rises to that of the egg. Thus you have an equal amount of each. Add slowly, stirring and beating, and keep in a wide-mouth bottle. An old vaseline jar is excellent. Smear thickly on the skin, leave for half an hour and wash off.

Reader—A strong astringent is made from one part white of egg and six parts water. Paint this over all skin of face and throat when giving a special treatment, let it dry and pull up the loose skin for about twenty minutes. Remove with warm water and then massage with a good cream. End treatment with an ice rub or by dashing very cold water over the skin.

A double chin is inexcusable

Puffiness under the eyes may come from trouble with kidneys or the liver, and should not be allowed to continue without consulting the doctor.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Davis Vote Increases In Presidential Poll

John W. Davis has increased his percentage of the popular and Electoral College vote in this week's returns of The Literary Digest's presidential poll as ballots from all of the forty-eight states have been received which. The Digest proclaims, "may, for the first time, be considered fairly representative of the nation as a whole."

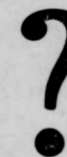

As the Democratic percentage has risen slightly, the Republican ratio has correspondingly decreased. Of the total of nearly 2,000,000 votes, Coolidge has 1,066,214; Davis, 384,205; La Follette, 432,660; which expressed in percentages show 56 per cent Republican, 20 per cent Democratic and Progressive 28 per cent.

La Follette is still holding Wisconsin while Davis has increased his leadership to eleven states and President Coolidge is ahead in the other thirty-six states. La Follette is second choice in twenty-eight states with Davis second in thirteen. In Kentucky and Oklahoma, the Democratic candidate is crowding the Republican standard-bearer closely and La Follette has gained slightly on the president in California in the week's tabulations.

The Democratic percentage may be expected to rise still further with succeeding returns. The Digest predicts, "since the states in which Democratic strength is confessedly strongest are among the last ones to report."

ACACIA PHARMACY ENJOYS SUCCESS

"We have been here about one year and a half," said Mrs. Harris of the Acacia Pharmacy, "and we have just done fine. Naturally we strive to give the best of service and it seems as though our many patrons appreciate our efforts because our business is a success in every way. I help my husband, George Harris, in the Pharmacy here practically all the time. You see we are most favorably situated between two very fine Glendale schools. Why there are about 900 children pass our store every day, and that makes a difference, doesn't it?"

High In Profession

Geo. C. Harris is a pharmacist of skill and ability, ranking very high in his profession. The Acacia Drug Store is modern in every respect and situated very conveniently for the tenants of the Mariposa Courts.

DOTSON & SONS GIVE FINE SERVICE

The building material on the Mariposa Court was supplied by P. K. Dotson and Co. of 2551 San Fernando Road, Los Angeles. This building house is exceptionally prompt in its deliveries and goes to any amount of trouble to give the kind of service that builders in Glendale like and demand.

When they say that they "Get on the job first" they mean it. One of the many conveniences that they have installed for the use of the patrons is a day and night service phone system both for Glendale and Los Angeles.

Plastering to Court Done by Ben Fellows

The well known plaster contractor Ben J. Fellows did the fine Jazz plaster work on the Mariposa Courts. It is an additional proof of his skill and accuracy in the plastering business. There is mighty little in the plastering world but what he is capable of handling in a commendable and satisfactory manner.

"Busy? I'll say I am," said Mr. Fellows in reply to an inquiry as to how business was going. "I am always busy. I guess I must handle the work just the way they want it, otherwise I wouldn't have so many calls for my services."

What with the recognized and standard artifice in the plastering craft plus the many innovations such as Jazz work, the plastering trade calls for more skill, speed and knowledge as the building industry evolves. Mr. Fellows is keeping in complete tune with the growth and evolution of his business and naturally his firm is in general demand by builders.

American Italian Co. Constructs Tile Roof

The beautiful rich colored tile that decorate the roof of the Mariposa Courts were made in Los Angeles by the American Italian Roofing and Tile Co. These tile give the courts an artistic and aristocratic appearance. They are perfectly made and do credit to the American Italian Tile Co.

This firm, that is part of the manufacturing growth of Los Angeles, is crowded with orders owing to the beauty and accuracy of the tile, and the further fact that tile roofing is coming more into use. There is no roofing that looks better and it must be said that the American Italian Roofing and Tile Co. is manufacturing the finest to be had on the market.

With the consummation in the final details of the construction and nursery decorations of the sixty thousand dollar MARIPOSA COURTS at 831 Mariposa Street, another red letter day is reached in the phenomenal building growth of Glendale. These courts, even under the most critical scrutiny, are recognized as among the artistic "home features" of Glendale.

GEORGE W. OKEY and his wife MRS. JOSEPHYNE OKEY, the OWNERS and PROPRIETORS of these exceptionally beautiful courts, planned efficiently and well, and as a result they are receiving compliments from hundreds of Glendale Citizens who appreciate the simplicity and artistic beauty of this new addition to the city.

CHESTER T. PALLADINE, well known for his skill in Spanish and Italian architecture, was the ARCHITECT. The structures are a credit to him and his professional reputation. Every detail of the building, both internal and external, is true to the type of architecture. There is none of the unusual oddities and deviations that are foreign to recognized and established rules of Spanish Architecture.

The MARIPOSA COURT is of SPANISH ARCHITECTURE, of twenty units. There are three rooms to each unit, living room, bedroom and kitchen. The convenience and arrangements of each and every unit is perfect. The BEDROOM is located next to a DRESSING ROOM, of exquisite taste, beauty and convenience. Some of the pleasing features in the DRESSING ROOM that are appealing to housewives, besides the built-in dressing table, wardrobe and large mirror, are the conveniences for curling irons and other electrical appliances common to the boudoir.

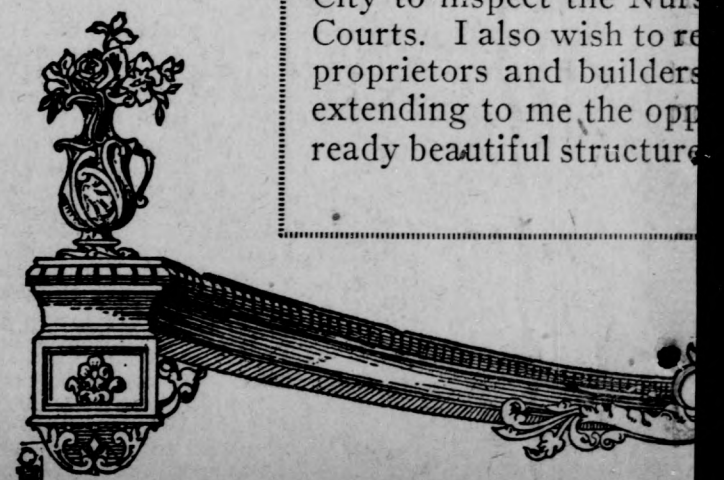

The LIVING ROOMS ARE FINISHED IN JAZZ PLASTER of a blue and gold tint. The Tiffany finished electrical fixtures harmonize magnificently with this blue and gold. The large and plentiful window space assures adequate light, whilst the round blue windows in the front units add considerable charm to the general setting of all the interior decorations. The living rooms are fitted with "HOLMES-IN-A-CLOSET" BEDS, whilst the kitchens which are finished in gray enamel have breakfast nooks, ample cupboard space, gas ranges, and every kind of convenience and labor saving device. A special attraction of both bath room and kitchen is the CONTINUOUS HOT and cold water supply from the central plant at the rear of the building.

The bath rooms are of white enamel, with Pembroke tub and special lavatory. The fancy linoleum floors give the bath rooms an air of warmth and beauty.

The furnished units are complete and ready for occupancy, having ice boxes in the kitchens with overstuffed davenports and rockers in the living rooms.

The Courts are built on a lot of 80x210, with a 20-ft. alley on which are located the garages. Over the garages are drying facilities and incinerators. Nothing has been spared to obtain comfort and convenience.

At the first glance of these Spanish Courts one realizes the care and INTELLIGENT PLANNING on the part of the Architect AND THE ARTISTRY AND SKILL OF ROY COALSON, THE LANDSCAPE GARDENER. The most exacting honesty and knowledge has been exhibited in the nursery landscaping and decorating. Mr. Palladine expressed keen appreciation with the work and art of Mr. Coalson, saying "that he was an artist who never puts southern plants, shrubbery and nursery decorations on northern structures and vice versa." The front of the Court is laid with extensive lawns, with a Patio in the courts themselves. The Patio is decorated with Abyssinian Banana Plants and other plants suited exactly to Spanish Architecture, along with ornamental fountains. The landscape art is a credit in every respect to the skill and ability of its designer, Mr. Coalson.

The exterior of the Courts is finished in dark cream Stucco, and with the added grace of the ELECTRIC LANTERNS that light the front and interior court, the building indeed presents a most dignified appearance.

A family could not ask for greater convenience, for the SCHOOLS ARE RIGHT OPPOSITE, whilst the stores and CARLINE ARE WITHIN A HALF BLOCK. The court is so arranged to be cool in the summer and warm during the chilly winter nights.

We have an extraordinary fine stock of

Some of which we had the pleasure of furnishing to the handsome

ROY COALSON IS MASTER OF ART

Although a disabled veteran of the world war, Roy Coalson, who planned and planted the extremely beautiful gardens to the Mariposa Courts, is a credit to his profession. Though a young man, there is very little in the landscaping art but what he is thoroughly conversant in. His work is a first-class advertisement to his business. It was his skillful hand and artistic genius that planted the beautiful landscaping on the Schofield home at North Jackson, the Strong duplex on Broadway, and the John Bib residence on North Columbia.

Enjoys His Work
"I presume my business lies in the fact that I enjoy and love my work," said Mr. Coalson. "It is really an art and one can never tire of helping with the beauties of nature. I have had the pleasure of handling several very large foothill estates, besides the landscaping on hundreds of beautiful homes and courts in Southern California."

Mr. Coalson spoke most appreciatively of the Mariposa Courts.

SECOND COURT IS NOW BEING BUILT

The American Building Co., builders and contractors for the Mariposa Court, is busy constructing a second court of similar design and architecture on Mariposa street within five lots of the Mariposa Court. If anything, this structure will be more beautiful than the one just completed. Spanish architecture will be carried right through as was done in the other court.

Western Brothers Do Lathing on Court

"We have been in the building game for many years," said Mr. Western of the Western Bros. Lathing and Contracting house of Glendale, "and, naturally, we are experienced. I somehow believe it is due to our care and speed that we are kept busy right along. We did the work on the Mariposa Courts and we have contracted to do the work on the second job that is now under construction, and but a few lots from the courts that are completed."

Brothers Real Pals
This lathing and contracting firm is controlled by the Western brothers who get along in business and on the job in the most congenial and comradely manner. They "know their onions," as they say, and are really capable builders. They consider the Mariposa Courts a credit to the city of Glendale.

Handsome Furnishings By Russell-Pierce Co.

The handsome furnishings in the Mariposa Courts were purchased by its proprietor from the well known furniture house of Russell-Pierce Furniture Co. of San Fernando road. Carrying the best line of house furnishings that can be bought for money, the Russell-Pierce Furniture Co. is one of the recognized companies of Glendale. Considering the fine quality of furniture that it always makes a business of having in stock, the prices are very reasonable. This is one of the reasons that the company is busy and successful.

News Letter

From Staff Correspondents of International News Service

By ETHEL MARSHALL
For International News Service.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, only daughter of the British monarch, is planning a trip to the United States.

The princess says she won't make the trip, however, until she feels she can safely leave her youngest baby in England, and she prefers to defer the voyage until the child is at least 2 years old.

Mrs. W. R. Wheeler of Washington, who has been the guest of Princess Mary at Goldsborough Hall, says the princess has promised definitely to be her guest in the United States.

The princess will return to London from her Yorkshire home very shortly.

Sir Philip Sassoon, one of England's most popular bachelors, has had many American guests this autumn at his luxurious home in Kent. The house, unlike most English country houses, is ultra modern, but it abounds in ancient treasures. Mrs. C. A. Venning, a Long Island hostess, intends to have a complete replica of Sir Philip's dining room installed in her Long Island home and is now searching for an old English mansion from which she may secure old fireplaces and rafters.

Margaret Asquith is not only an inveterate first-nighter, but she is always seen in the front row of all of the best fashion shows. At Reville's fall show she brought along her granddaughter, Priscilla Bibesco, daughter of the Rumanian ambassador to the United States. Priscilla gave her grandmother a lively afternoon and threatened to steal the show away from the mannequins.

London's dress season is open, and it begins to look like an undress season.

Skirts are barely covering faintly kneecaps and backs are bare.

The pencil-like waistline silhouette is the vogue.

Colors are gliding, rich shades of red and orange predominating. There is a great revival of jewelry this season. During the summer it became the vogue to wear little or no jewelry, but priceless baubles are again coming into fashion.

Mrs. Agatha Johns of New York was seen at Berkeley the other night wearing her famous tarsi, but the brilliant Hocking diamond, which used to be the center stone of the tarsi is now worn by Miss Johns as a single stone necklace. Mrs. A. L. Stenton of New York appeared wearing her pearl necklace, which may start a new fashion in pearl necklaces, for the pearls are not graduated in any way, but are threaded on their silken string, irrespective of their size.

Scotland is going to make a valiant attempt at winter sports this season. For years thousands of English sportsmen have been going to Switzerland for winter sports. This year an attempt will be made by a Scottish hotel to capture some of the winter sportsmen. The weather man of Scotland will probably determine the success of the venture.

Burbank Youth, Heir To Estate, Is Located

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Byron Remig, 14-year-old heir to a Burbank estate, has been located with relatives in Nebraska, according to advice received by the sheriff's office from Beloit, Kan., where Richard E. Boyer, aged 18, is held for having accompanied the younger youth in the escape. They abandoned a light touring car at Kingman, Ariz., which was part of the estate, according to Boyer. Both boys will be returned to their home here. Mrs. M. E. Laug of Los Angeles is the aunt and guardian of Remig.

Sue Hollywood Cafe Man In Knife Death

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Echoes of the butcher knife killing of E. J. Hoff by Harry B. Winters, Hollywood cafe man, were heard in the filing of a suit for $25,000 damages on behalf of the family. L. S. Farmer, guardian for Gloria and William Hoff, and Mrs. Zella Hoff, the widow, are parties to the suit against Winters.

'NOT SO GOOD'

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—There is weeping and gnashing of teeth today among women who want a brown costume. No doubt about it; brown suede is "not so good" this season as black suede—but brown shoes are permissible in satin and velvet as well as in leather.

An automobile road 400 miles long is being constructed in Brazil.

THE GATEWAY

You have to be married to know how many breakfasts make a full week and how many breakfasts make a discontented husband.

Fannie Hurst is quoted as having said that "seven breakfasts a week with the same person is too much," and it is this theme that has been incorporated in "Daring Youth," the picture of married life showing at the Gateway Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The well-known authoress made her statement in an interview directly following her "business marriage" and it has come to the films in a highly amusing comedy drama.

Not all of the thrills are provided by the theme, for a notable cast adds its scintillating ability to the story. Bebe Daniels has the starring role of the wife and Norman Kerry plays opposite her as the husband. The comic relief is supplied by Lee Moran, known to vaudeville followers as the senior member of Moran & Moran.

U. S. C. Glee Club to Appear In Glendale

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—The University of Southern California's glee club will make its first appearance this season at the Oakmont Country club, Glendale, on October 26, it was announced today by Horace Judson, newly appointed manager. The club members are invited to take a good with them and in addition to dinner a round of golf will be enjoyed by the singers.

The first annual home coming for U. S. C. alumni has been set for December 6 with the U. S. C. Syracuse game as a prime event. Dinner at the Exposition park armory also is planned.

Aged Couple Overcome By Gas Fumes In Home

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Jennie Midton, aged 60, is dead and her husband J. E. is dying in the Ingewood hospital as the result of gas suffocation at their home, 4842 Patton street, Lennox. Captain William Bright and Deputy Sheriff Catlett and Stersland of the homicide squad who investigated, believe the elderly couple lit the fire early this morning and went to sleep again only to be found later by neighbors, victims of fatal monoxide fumes.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

Booth Tarkington's genial comedy, "The Country Cousin," was presented this afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre and will be offered again at 8:15 o'clock tonight by the Dobinson Players, with a cast including Gertrude Kellar and Richard Ehlers.

The play was adapted to the stage by Julian Street and has enjoyed enormous popularity. Many Glendaleans are organizing theatre parties and attending it in groups, states Miss Eva Daniels, business manager of the Dobinson Players.

"The Country Cousin" will be given again on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of next week, she states, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

THE GLENDALE

"The Fighting Sap" concludes today at the Glendale theatre. Monday to Wednesday inclusive the feature is "Welcome Stranger" with Florence Vidor, Noah Beery and Lloyd Hughes.

THE T. D. & L.

Buster Keaton in "The Navigator" concludes today at the T. D. & L. theatre. Sunday to Tuesday inclusive the feature is "In Hollywood with Potash and Perlmutter."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND LITTLE UPPIE

Once upon a time Kittle Kat, the pussy girl, came running over to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, her tail all puffed out large, like a bologna sausage, and she was mewling and crying:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Come over to our house, quick! Come over to our house, quick!"

"Why, my dear Kittle, whatever is the matter?" asked the rabbit gentleman, not even stopping to twinkle his pink nose. "Is your house on fire?"

"Not quite as sad as that—but almost!" mewled Kittle. "My little brother has climbed up a big tree in front of our house and he can't get down."

"Why can't your little brother get down out of the tree?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "Are Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow there? I know those puppy dog boys sometimes chase little cats up a tree and won't let them down."

"Have done anything like that I shall never speak to them again—never!"

"Oh, it isn't Jackie or Peetie," mewled Kittle. "Little brother cat just climbed up a tree, all by himself, and now he's afraid to climb down for fear he may fall. And mother isn't at home and neither are my big brothers, Tommie and Jole, and I can't get little brother down and I don't know what to do. Oh, dear! Mew! Mew! Mew!"

"There! There! Don't cry my dear," spoke Uncle Wiggily, kindly. "I'll come over to your house with you, and I dare say I can tell Little Brother how to get down. What is his name, so I will know what to call him?"

"He hasn't any name," answered Kittle, as she walked along toward her house with Uncle Wiggily.

"A little pussy cat without a name—think of that!" murmured Mr. Longears.

"Mother wanted to call him Kadicalous, and daddy wanted to call him Kadoodalus, and they couldn't decide which, so we just call him Little Brother until we can find a better name," said Kittle.

"Well, we'll get him down out of the tree and talk about his name afterward," spoke Uncle Wiggily. And when he got to Kittle's house there, out in front, up a tree, was Little Brother.

"Come down! Come down!" called Uncle Wiggily.

"I'm afraid! I'm afraid! I'll fall!" mewled Little Brother, who was lying down on a limb of the tree, well up from the ground.

"Jump down and I'll catch you in my tail silk hat!" offered the bunny, holding out his hat.

"I'm afraid! I'm afraid! I'll fall through and bang my nose!" mewled Little Brother.

Then Uncle Wiggily took his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, and on the end he hung a basket. Then he raised the basket up in the tree, close to the branch where Little Brother crouched.

"Step off the branch, into the basket, and I'll lower you to the ground," said the bunny gentleman.

"All right! I'm not afraid to get into the basket," mewled Little Brother. Into the basket he crawled, and safely down to the

DROP KICKS WIN FROM CITRUS

'Bud' Elliott and Carl Denney Boot Pigskin Over Bar For Only Points

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
The educated toes of "Bud" Elliott and Carl Denney succeeded in downing the Citrus Lemons in a hard-fought game played at Azusa yesterday to the tune of 6 to 2.

The Lemons scored their two points on a fluke play which followed the opening kick-off, which was caught by Ryan. Ryan did not attempt to run with the ball thinking the kick had gone over the goal line. A Citrus player tackled Ryan and the referee declared it was a safety and gave Citrus two points.

Citrus recovered a Glendale fumble on the first play. Phipps' drop kick was blocked. De Parcq recovered the ball and made thirty-five yards. Rudman, Citrus fullback, fumbled a punt, Lavelle recovering on the Citrus three-yard line. The Dynamiters were penalized ten yards on the first play for pushing. Carl Denney put over the winning three markers with a drop kick from the twenty-yard line which barely went between the posts.

Elliott Drop Kicks
The Lemons made things look gloomy for the Dynamiters at the start on the second half when Williams ran forty yards around left end from the Citrus twenty-yard line, and Hauss made twenty yards on a forward pass. De Parcq stopped the Citrus onslaught by intercepting a pass which, had it been completed, might have spelled defeat for the locals.

In the third quarter Bud Elliott tried his third drop kick from the thirty-five yard line, and this time the ball sailed over the goal. Ellsworth De Parcq was slightly injured in the third quarter and was replaced by Harry Flishe. The Glendale eleven was not without support, fully three times as many rooters were on hand to cheer the Dynamiters as Citrus was to muster. A line of machines nearly two miles long went to Azusa from here. With this victory tucked under their belts the Glendale boys are resting much easier. Coach Hayhurst referred to this game as the one that will decide the pennant. The only other tough scrap Hayhurst expects is the game with Covina, which will be played three weeks from yesterday away from home.

The line-up:

SCORE BY QUARTERS
Glendale 3 0 0 3-6
Citrus 0 0 0 0-0
Field Goal—Denney, Elliott, Safety—Ryan.

Carter Gets Decision In Bout With Farren
Tommy Carter slugged his way to victory last night at Hollywood in his bout with Frankie Farren, winning by a whirlwind finish. Fight fans who jammed the Legion stadium found plenty of excitement in the battle. In the semi-windup, Eddie White won over Charley Sullivan after four rounds of genuine slugfests. K. O. Kelly copped a close decision from Willie O'Brien in the special spot. Kid Ponce knocked out Sid Boniface in the fourth round, but not until Ponce had taken a count of nine in the second. Johnny Leo let Mark Purok last less than one round. Kid Chilli made things hot for Mickey White. Johnny La Rose came close to being a knockout in the fourth round of his bout with Billy Blake, but managed to wake up at the count of nine. However, Blake copped the buttons.

CAPTAIN STEGER

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 18.—Despite the fact that neither Uteritz or Harry Kipke trots onto the field these days when the Michigan grid team swings into action, Coach Emmeritus Yost and his man Friday (Coach Little) find themselves more taken up with the problem of building a powerful line than with rebuilding the backfield, to fill the gaps left by the two stars named.

Uteritz was proclaimed by Yost the most valuable quarterback he had ever tutored. Rockwell, who took the pilot position after Uteritz's broke his ankle last year, pulled the winning run of the Badger-Michigan game. He is heady and wields a triple threat. He runs 100 yards in 10.2 seconds, passes well, and punts fifty yards. Captain Herb Steger is a fine open-field runner and promises to take the place of Harry Kipke in that branch of the game. He is also a fine passer. Red Miller is going well at fullback this year after his year of experience on the varsity last season. He is heavy, and all he lacked last year was experience. Three men are battling for the berth at the other half. Parker is a fine kicker and passer. Stammen can also do both. While Herrstein is a hard-hitting punter and dependable on the receiving end of a pass.

Dutch Marion, a veteran of last year's squad, is playing one of the ends, while Charlie Grube, who alternated at fullback last year, will undoubtedly be on the other wing before the season progresses far. Both are short, stocky, and fast, in contrast to the mighty Goebel and Kirk, who made history two seasons ago on Perry field.

Babcock, Edwards, Knowl, Hawkins, Flora and Hall are the best looking prospects for the tackle jobs, while Steele, White, Dewey and Ulman are fighting for the guard jobs. Brown, a lightweight compared to the husky Blott and the yet huskier Vick, all-Americans last year and three years ago, has the center position. Last year, after Blott's injury, he took the regular job and held it down well for the remainder of the season.

Walter Johnson May Play on West Coast
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—"If I can engineer a deal out on the coast from which I can derive more than what I can derive from Clark Griffith I will not be with the Washington Senators in 1925," declared Walter Johnson, veteran baseball pitcher and 1924 world series hero, when he stopped in St. Louis last night en route to his home in Coffeyville, Kan.

ON THE SANDLOTS

"Ferdie" Schupp, formerly with the New York Giants, will be on the mound for the Gilmore Oilers tomorrow when Cliff McCall's aggregation meets the Pacific Electric at the Third and Fairfax streets park. Schupp hurled for the Kansas City last year. Tubb Spencer, catcher with the Angels last season, will do the receiving for the Oilers as soon as the Coast schedule is over. Ernie Vache, of the Dallas club, who will report to Boston next spring, has been signed by McCall to play an outfield position.

Manager Floyd Carleton, of the Hollywood Merchants crew, has signed Leo Cook, catcher of the Salt Lake club, to work behind the plate for the Movie City team in the Southern California Winter loop. Cook will report to the Merchants as soon as the Coast league season ends.

The St. Louis Giants, claiming the distinction of being the strongest all-star colored team in the country, are in Southern California ready for the opening of the winter league schedule. The St. Louis Giants will play Jasper's All-Stars at Goodyear park tomorrow.

Carl Sawyer, who played with Vernon and was manager of the Glendale White Sox last summer, will lead an aggregation of baseball stars of the Southland to San Diego tomorrow to meet the best team the southern city can provide.

Street noises of Paris have become so great that a chemist has invented a tiny plastic ball that will fit any ear and shut out sounds, with benefit especially to "light sleepers," nervous persons and invalids.

Muff's Arm Injured In Citrus Contest; Will Be Out Week
Elmer Muff, Glendale's diminutive quarter, who starred for the Dynamiters yesterday in their win over the Citrus gridders was resting much easier this morning. His arm was badly sprained during the closing moments of the Citrus game. At first it was feared that Muff's arm was broken, but an examination failed to reveal a fracture. Although the arm is badly sprained, Coach Hayhurst hopes to be able to start Muff in next Friday's game against the Monrovia Wildcats.

CONSTIPATION OVERCOME
The use of FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS will bring speedy relief from constipation if taken promptly. They are purely vegetable and act on the liver. Mr. John D. McComb, Lucas Co. Home, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Have used FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS in severe cases of constipation to which I am subject and found them beneficial." FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS are easy to take, leave no unpleasant after-effects. Try them.

PENNANT RACE IS UNCHANGED AGAIN

Los Angeles, San Francisco And Seattle Win Games; Two Days More

By THREE STRIKES
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—And still the battle rages. Prayers and more prayers are being offered by the Angels and their staunch supporters, for verily 'twill be a miracle, but not an impossibility, for the Los Angeles club to cop the pennant. Yesterday's contest brought no change in the standing of the leading teams, the Angels, Seattle and the Seals all coming out the victors.

From air tight ball played during the previous days, Vernon and the Seraphs gave way to a ragged and prolonged fracas from which Marty Krug and his hired help emerged triumphantly, 8 to 6.

After putting up a strong defensive and annexing four markers in the first four frames, the Angels blew up in the fifth when the Bengals scored four runs and took the lead 5 to 4.

Homer Ties Score
But, in the Angel half, Durst socked a homer to tie the score, and then started the pitchers parade. Ken Penner gave way to "Kiki" Carson, then came three additional Tiger hurlers who paused only a moment on the mound en route to the clubhouse. The only trouble was that the moundmen could not put the pill over and three runs were forced in on walks. This cinched the affair for Los Angeles.

"Doc" Crandall started on the mound for the Seraphs, but was lifted in the sixth for a pinch hitter. Ramsey took the mound and allowed two hits in the last four frames.

Wins In Ninth
It all simmers down to this. If Seattle wins two of her three games with Portland they have the whole flag to themselves. If they drop two the Angels are still in it. And there are only two days to go.

San Francisco defeated Oakland yesterday by driving in two runs in the ninth. The score was 3 to 2.

Seattle gave the Portland Beavers their ninth straight defeat, the last four at the hands of the Indians, by a 5 to 2 score.

Salt Lake stepped on the Solons yesterday, 9 to 1.

McNeely, Outfielder For Washington Senators, To Play With Glendale Team

Two of the three games Earl McNeely, star center-fielder for the world champion Washington Senators, will play in Southern California will be played with the Glendale White Sox. The third game will be played in Los Angeles, when McNeely will participate in the benefit game to be staged by the K. C., with Babe Ruth in the line-up.

This information was received direct from McNeely over long-distance telephone from Sacramento, where the man who drove out the $30,000 single in the twelfth inning of that famous final game of the series is resting at his home. Frank Kerwin, owner of the Glendale White Sox, persuaded McNeely to play two games with the local team. Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, has given McNeely permission to play in four exhibition games. He will play tomorrow with Sacramento, the team he was with before the Senators paid $50,000 and a couple of players for him.

Next Saturday and Sunday, October 25 and 26, McNeely will be in the Glendale White Sox lineup. He will play his customary position of center-field, and will be leadoff man on the White Sox batting list.

ABOUT BASEBALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The results of the 1924 world series will have a reaching effect on baseball. The fact that the Washington Senators, who were one of the purchased stars, but a fighting machine developed from the holdovers of 1923 and a few kids, has given other American league managers the impression that they can do likewise in 1925, which is exactly what baseball needs.

The Giants were unable to win the series with their champions of four years, has satisfied some of the National league owners that the stars of the New York team will not be in the ascendancy in 1925 and there is a greater feeling of confidence that the Giants can be done out of the pennant next summer.

Brooklyn, which is one of the clubs that may have a chance at the pennant next year, is out to strengthen. Bill McKechnie is certain he has the key to the championship next year in Pittsburgh. Maybe he has, but he has had so many keys recently that failed to fit the lock that one wonders. The Cubs, too, are out for a good team, but they must get a couple of batters who can stick the season out for them. A pennant cannot be won by batting that slumps in July.

In the American league, Connie Mack is scouring about for some new material as are the White Sox. Boston has got to find some more speed somewhere. Cleveland also is satisfied there is a chance to pull through next season.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, Oct. 18.—Sunland Park tract, formerly the Mears ranch, is being developed at a cost of $60,000 for water, roads and other improvements, according to statements made by Earl Newmire, of Newmire & Ohm, agents. The state highway will be widened to ninety feet through the tract, with equal provision for Roscoe road, at the intersection of the two. A well is being deepened to 200 feet and water pipes laid to serve the tract. A 20,000 gallon reservoir will be located on high ground. Restrictions for construction have been placed on the building activities. The subdividing company is prepared to build houses for purchasers and sell them on the easy installment plan. The tract comprises fifty acres and includes some very attractive view sites from which can be seen San Fernando city, Tujunga, Big Tujunga canyon and other points.

Rev. W. E. Smith will speak on "The Christian Pattern of Life" at the Sunday morning services. In the evening the subject will be "Can It Be Done?" This service will be a review of the possibilities contained in Luke 6:35, where the command is given to love your enemies.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Sid Terris, the flashy New York light weight, is being groomed to fill the shoes of Benny Leonard as kingpin of the 135-pounders. It is questionable whether Benny can make that poundage—or Terris—as is proven by his contracting to meet bouts of the heavier class and bouts at catchweights.

The ballyhoo for Terris would now be in full swing if it were not for an unfortunate injury to one of his hands. But the injured member has responded to treatment and Sid will soon be swinging into action.

It is the writer's opinion that Terris would not prove an acceptable champion to the country at large. His style of milling is not conducive to any excess of enthusiasm and will prove a disappointment to the folks who look for a fighting titmouse. Terris has speed, too much speed of foot to satisfy those accustomed to seeing a champion give and take as the occasion warrants. His attack consists of a lightning-like left hand jab, with an occasional right-hand cross while pedalling around the ring at a pace calculated to burn up about ten miles in the course of a bout.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Oct. 18.—The Thomas A. Edison school auditorium was the scene last night of one of the largest civic gatherings this city has had in months, when under the auspices of the local Chamber of Commerce the long heralded "Our City" program was put on.

The meeting opened at 7:30 o'clock, with a large crowd in the auditorium, including scores of people prominent in the business and social life of Burbank. They enjoyed a well balanced program worked out by Manager J. W. Charleville of the Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the officers and directors of that body.

Luther Bell, traffic manager of the United States air mail service, told the people of Burbank what service would do for their city, enlightening them on many details of the service. J. E. Light, district freight agent of the Southern Pacific lines, presented some figures on the growth of shipping in this district.

There were in addition a number of five-minute talks by members of the board of trustees and heads of various municipal departments. When the meeting was over, it was the general consensus of opinion that its purpose, that of knowing Burbank better, had been accomplished.

Mrs. E. Pickthorn and two daughters have returned to their home at 55 Cypress avenue, after a three months' visit at Billings, Montana. Mr. Pickthorn will remain in Montana for some time to look after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Beoot, recently from Norfolk, Virginia, have moved to 723 Tujunga avenue, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howe, who are living in Pasadena.

Mrs. Edward C. Livingston, who has been the guest of relatives in New York and vicinity during the summer, has returned to her home on Alameda avenue.

VENTURA ELKS TO PLAY WHITE SOX

Fast Game Is Expected as Two Teams Clash Sunday On Local Grounds

The B. P. O. Elks, champions of Ventura, headed by Frank Fairbanks, will invade Glendale tomorrow afternoon for a game with the White Sox. The Elks promise to be as thrilling as the final game of the world's series, and will be staged at the White Sox park on San Fernando road. Fairbanks will do the mound duty for the visitors, with "Mickey" O'Brien, formerly of Philadelphia, doing the receiving. The lineup will be filled with bigtime stars.

"Chicken" Hawkes, manager of the White Sox, will use either Dick Bonelly, Kansas City Blues pitching ace, or Fred Pfahler, former Los Angeles high player and with the Catalina Cubs last summer, to do the hurling for the locals. Pfahler was signed by Frank Kerwin only last week, and may make his debut tomorrow in a Glendale uniform.

"Ping" Bodie, who busted fences around Frisco a long time ago, and kept right on hitting the old apple during the fifteen years he has played big league ball, will again be in the White Sox lineup. "Ping" had a perfect day last Sunday, getting a single, double, the longest homer ever hit here, a walk and hit by a pitched ball. Ray French is another big leaguer with the pale hose crew.

A Home With Absolutely No Down Payment

The idea of financing and selling a modern home without requiring any down payment originated in the recognition of the simple fact that there are thousands upon thousands of fine citizens who would willingly turn their rent into purchasing a home if they were only possible to do so without placing a large lump sum down as first payment. We knew the stability of character of these people, and we concluded that such character was capital, and security, in itself. This was the source of our deliberations. The next thing was how can this be done? How can we build a modern five-room stucco home, with all the latest comforts and conveniences, in a better class district, where "people would like to make a home?" Such were the questions! And this is our answer: Pay us ten per cent on the entire indebtedness per month and eight per cent will go as rent while the remainder will go into purchasing the home. Simple enough. And in about three years we will give you a Deed to the home providing you are still occupying the house and have proven your stability, whilst you give us a Mortgage. This may seem incredible, but, if you will call at our office we will prove that we are in a position to do this very thing and provide you with that home you have been dreaming of for so many years but have been unable to get because your money has been going to the landlord instead of to yourself. We have been in the building and finance business for many years. We do not boast when we say that we are thoroughly conversant with every department of building and the financing of buildings. We could not accommodate homeseekers, who have no capital to make the initial payment required on almost all homes, if we were not extensive builders. We have just completed some of the finest home values to be found in this state. They are on the Silverwood Tract in Eagle Rock. If you have never been in that neighborhood you will be surprised at the beauty and quiet of the place. You will say "Just the place for a home." And it is, and furthermore, you can make yourself a home without a cent first payment in one of the houses we have just mentioned if you are a stable resident. You can get us on the phone by calling Garfield 1145.

FRAZIER PARK IS DEVELOPING FAST

Subdividers Twining & Myers Open Second Allotment of Mountain Cabin Sites

Improvements in Frazier Mountain Park district are going forward in record-breaking time. Steam shovels combined with the latest machines in road building are used to further the developments that Subdividers Twining and Myers have promised the cabin-site owners in this region. Commenting on the work Mr. Myers said:

"Our Mr. Twining left for the park early this morning and will remain over during the week-end to meet the dozens of interested cabin-site seekers who flock to this beautiful Mountain Home every week-end. I shall leave tomorrow morning by way of San Fernando, Saugus, the National Forest Inn, Sanbergs and Chandlers, which is but a short distance to the Park.

Trip Described

"It is a beautiful trip at all times, but more especially early on a fine California morning. The air is clear and invigorating, and when the sun pours its rays through the tall timber, one sure feels fine. I don't think I ever have seen a more beautiful place than Frazier Mountain Park. Without boasting, it is, indeed, a wonderful, natural home."

Speaking of the lakes Mr. Myers said:

Natural Stream

"You see there is a powerful natural stream flowing through the Park and we have so arranged that it runs into half a dozen artificial lakes that our workmen built. We already have poured hundreds of young trout into these lakes and the fishing will be some of the best in all California. When we say there are fishing, boating, swimming and all the delights of first-class resorts, we mean it."

The first allotment of the Frazier Mountain Park subdivision was sold out last week, now the second allotment is open.

Boy's Leg Broken as Auto Backs Over Him

Frank Bailey, 4-year-old son of Mrs. F. E. Bailey of 1441 Oak Grove avenue, Eagle Rock, is a patient at the Glendale hospital, with a broken leg, the result of being run over by an automobile at 7 o'clock last night. The accident happened at the corner of Avoca and Viola street, near the east city limits of Glendale, when a car driven by Robert Rettinger of 703 Avoca street backed without seeing the Bailey boy, according to a report filed at Glendale police headquarters. The report stated that Robert Rettinger is 14 years old.

The Coolidge "home town caravan" which has toured the country by automobile from Plymouth, Vermont, is now in California and will be due in Glendale next Tuesday at 5:30 p. m. Arrangements have been made to give the Coolidge home-town party a cordial reception in Glendale, and it is desired that as many of our citizens as can do so will meet the "caravan" at Saugus at 2:30 p. m., to serve as an escort to the distinguished party through the San Fernando valley until it reaches Glendale. The invitation to join in the welcome is extended to everybody. Those who have automobiles are invited to join the party at Saugus, or any point along the route if they can not spare the time to go to Saugus. West Broadway, between Brand and Central, has been reserved as the place of assembly when the home town folks will tell us about their home-town boy now attending to the nation's business in the White House at Washington.

English Bungalow Home

Unusual is this type of building, plans for which can be secured from the BENTLEY LUMBER CO., 460 West Los Feliz road. The floor plan indicates plenty of rooms, conveniently arranged and each handy in its location.

A typical English bungalow home of such rare distinctiveness as to make it unusual in the extreme. Its general exterior design and arrangement shows the great care that has been given in executing the plans, not one detail has been overlooked that would add to its attractiveness and make it practical and substantial.

The same competent thought and efforts are incorporated into the well arranged and conveniently grouped rooms, and surely a plan embodying so many popular and practical features cannot help but make strong appeals and create desires for a home to be built from these complete detailed plans.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S BIBLE COURSE

Conducted by REV. C. H. CHRISMAN
GOSPEL TABERNACLE CHURCH
Lounge and Chestnut
Sunday Nights, 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock

THE SYMBOLS OF THE BIBLE

The value of the Word of God to the Christian is strikingly set forth in the use of certain symbols or figures. Note the following:

1—Critics. In Hebrews 4:12 we read that "the Word of God is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

"Discerner" is from the Greek word "kritikos," from which we get our word "critic." This is the only place in the Bible where this word is found. Instead of man criticizing the Bible, the Bible is meant to criticize man. And not man's actions merely, but also his thoughts and intentions.

2—Lamp. "Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path." Psalms 119:105. The Christian is called to walk in a world of spiritual darkness, and only by constant use of the lamp of the Word is there safety in the way.

3—Mirror. "Like a man beholding his natural face in a glass." James 1:22-25. Unlike any other book, the Bible shows us how I look to God. Other books show me what is in the heart of the author, but this Book shows me what is in my own heart.

4—Water. Speaking of the church, Paul says in Ephesians 5:25: "That He might sanctify and cleanse it by the washing of water by the Word." The Word cleanses the heart by teaching it to abhor and forsake everything that defiles the inner life.

5—Food. "I have esteemed the words of Thy mouth more than my necessary food." Job 23:12. Even more important than the three meals that we usually eat is the soul-food obtained from God's Word. How can we expect to grow without taking time to eat?

6—Sword. "The sword of the Spirit which is the word of God." Eph. 6:17. It is with this sword of the Word, the sword of the Spirit, by which we fight the unseen enemies of the soul.

7—Milk. "I have fed you with milk." I Cor. 3:2. "Desire the sincere milk of the Word." There are parts of the Bible suitable to "babes in Christ." Milk stands for the fundamental truths.

8—Meat. "Strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age." Heb. 5:12-14. A continued diet of milk is an indication of retarded development.

9—Bread. "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Matt. 4:4. It is God's purpose to give the Word to us daily, warm and fresh.

10—Honey. "How sweet are Thy Words unto my taste; yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth." Why do we not find the Word thus palatable? It is because of lack of adjustment to God. David had yielded himself to God. Hence the sweetness of the Word to his taste. See Psalms 119:103.

11—Gold. "More to be desired than gold, yea, than much fine gold." Psalms 19:10. This is the estimation placed upon the Word by those who knew it best. Let us pray for a like appreciation.

LEGION POST WILL HAVE DRUM CORPS

K.F. Butler Will Be In Charge Of New Department; 100 New Members Apply

Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, will have a bugle and drum corps, it was decided at the meeting held last night at the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. K. F. Butler will be in charge of the corps. Drummers who joined last night were R. H. Miller, J. H. College and K. F. Butler and Buglers George A. Grist, E. V. Bonnell and J. H. Allard.

A team will represent the post in the American Legion county league. C. M. Solano will be in charge of the first practice to be held at the Harvard High school next Tuesday night. It was announced that California veterans who had not made application for their state bonus should do so at once, as there are funds available. Preference will be given to service men with dependents or disabled.

One Hundred Apply

One hundred applications for membership in the post have been received, it was announced, and a large class will be initiated next Friday night. Delegations from posts at Verdugo Hills, Montrose, Eagle Rock, Burbank, Owensmouth, Lamanda Park and Los Angeles will attend the initiation. Dr. Edwin H. Armstrong is in charge of the committee on refreshments and Henry Pressing heads the committee on grievance. A letter from the Glendale Merchants' association stated that all stores would be closed on Armistice day. A committee was named to study the proposed measures and amendments to be submitted at the general election and report on them next week.

Commander Joseph Wilson presided and told of a conference last Sunday at South Pasadena with State Commander Nathan Coombs and State Adjutant James Fiske.

BANQUET IS HELD BY BROTHERHOOD

Several Addresses Made at Meeting Held at First Methodist Church

Supervisor Henry W. Wright, Assemblyman Frank Weller and Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, were the principal speakers at the banquet and entertainment given by the brotherhood of the First Methodist Episcopal church at the church last night. Dr. R. K. Rose presided at the meeting. J. B. Clarke led the community singing, and the Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of C. K. Aston, provided music. The dinner was prepared and served by the women of the church.

The business affairs of the county were discussed by Supervisor Wright, who outlined the work of the Board of Supervisors, told what work had been accomplished in the past year and what improvements were planned for the coming two years. He spoke on flood control plans and the proposed projects to divert flood waters from Sycamore canyon.

Dr. Ferris, who recently became pastor of the church, urged that churches do more for the young men and women of the communities. The protection of youth and the winning of boys and girls to the cause of Christianity were stressed by Dr. Ferris.

year in 1925 and give some figures showing the advantage Glendale enjoys over other cities: Population, 55,000, a gain of 2000 per cent in fourteen years, jumping from 2700 in 1910; assessed valuation, $47,061,355; altitude, 700 feet; seven miles from downtown Los Angeles, fifteen miles from the ocean; building permits to October 1, $8,000,000; or nearly $1,000,000 per month; bank clearings, $4,500,000 per month; eighty manufacturing plants in which some of the commodities made are ice cream, mirrors, ink, candy, fruit baskets, built-in beds, sanitary goods, window shade cloth, ornamental tile, golf balls, street flasher signals and auto beds; fifty-six miles of paving done in 1923, making a total of over 100 miles of paved streets; new sewers at a cost of $1,650,000; new $1,000,000 Union High school; $275,000 Y. M. C. A. building assured; $1,000,000 in new theatres or authorized; 1440 houses built in 1923 exclusive of stores and apartments; thirty-six miles of water mains laid in 1923; 300 electric cars and trains serving the city daily.

Wilson Building
Perhaps one of the outstanding persons in the development of Glendale is L. H. Wilson, realtor, at 1034 South San Fernando road, who has a ten-acre industrial tract in the vicinity of San Fernando, Garfield and Los Angeles streets, which has been developed through his own efforts and financing. On this are located a dozen or more factories employing skilled mechanics, two more are to open within the next ten days and three factory buildings under course of construction by Mr. Wilson.

The industrial council of the Chamber of Commerce is expected to do much constructive work in the development of the city, and what industries will be most profitable to Glendale. The aim of this committee is to make Glendale independent of tourist trade and convert it into a city that will have a payroll supporting itself as the manufacturing district of the city should make a solid economical condition.

Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is preparing much data and formulating plans that are expected to be some of the interesting features of the development planned for 1925.

London now claims to be a health resort, following the report of the medical officer that Falmouth, the Cornish resort famed for its climate, has an infant mortality 2.6 per thousand more than that of London.

Diamond rings, watches, wrist watches, pearls, silverware, and many other articles are included in stock and suggested as appropriate Christmas gifts for members of the family. Mr. Cole is offering special terms in the purchase of jewelry which he says should prove an added incentive for buying at this time.
